

ASSERTS THAT LAW OF 1895 IS NOT VALID

ONE LEGISLATURE CANNOT BIND ANOTHER AS TO ITS
NUMBER OF EMPLOYEES—
THIRTEEN ATTACHES OF 1913
GENERAL ASSEMBLY, ACQUIT-
TED OF CHARGE OF PRESENT-
ING FALSE CLAIMS.

DECISION ON SATURDAY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 21.—

The thirteen legislative members and employees who have been under indictment in the criminal court of the city, have been acquitted. Judge Markey in rendering his decision and opinion completely covered the statement of facts as agreed upon by both the lawyers for the state and defense. The decision which was made public Saturday is a complete vindication of those indicted and closes a chapter in criminal court procedure that never should have been written. Paul C. Hill of this town was among those indicted. The decision by Judge Markey was a strong legal document and closely followed the argument of that great constitutional lawyer and legal mind, Hon. Ferdinand Winters, who presented the case for the defendants. The decision reviewed the statement of facts as agreed upon, quoted many court decisions showing that one legislative body can not bind another when it comes to passing upon the qualifications of its own members, the election of its own officers or for the making of rules for the government of its own business. It has been an admitted fact that the officers in no way personally profited by the transactions which formed the basis of their indictment. There was no false or fraudulent claim presented, and actual service was rendered by those to whom warrants were issued. There never at any time was any intention upon the part of those who suffered indictment to do other than what was absolutely right and lawful, and now that they have been tried and acquitted it is more than gratifying to themselves and to their hosts of friends throughout the state. It will likewise be gratifying to the mighty host of the Indiana Democracy, who always stands for justice and right and who not only preach but practice equal and exact justice to all men. Much political significance naturally was attached to this case in which many prominent political figures were charged with grave crimes. To their credit they have been men throughout the trying ordeal in which not alone were their political futures in jeopardy, but their own good name as well. They manfully stood the test, meanwhile protesting their innocence of any wrongdoing or any intention of wrongdoing, demanded immediate hearings in a court of justice and now comes a vindication, sweeping in character and doubtless sweet to the sensitive tastes of those who were charged with violating the criminal laws of our state. The rank and file of the Indiana Democracy will rejoice with them. The party will rejoice in the restoration of their good name, and it will rejoice in the knowledge that their leaders in the two legislative branches of our state government were leaders whose thoughts and acts were in sympathy with law and their own legislative right.

Without desiring to minimize the importance or standing of any of the lawyers who represented the defense, yet it was to the credit of those defendants that Hon. Ferdinand Winters should lead the counsel in presenting the law to the court. Mr. Winters is one of the greatest constitutional lawyers in the middle west and we doubt if he has an equal in the east, the south or the north. He is not one of those lawyers who would present any sort of law to earn a fee or win a case, but he is a lawyer that knows the constitutional law and he knows too, how to present it to a court or a jury. Out of eight or ten members of the Marion county bar who were employed in this case, when Mr. Winters concluded his argument, they each in turn told the court that every phase of the case had been covered, and that they did not care to present any argument. Had not the law been upon the side of the defendants Mr. Winters would not have petty fogged or tried to deceive the court, so we say that it is to the credit of these defendants that this great lawyer led in the argument.

So this ends what many believe to be an attempt to discredit the Democratic party of Indiana. Be that as it may, it will not accomplish that end. The Democrats of the state are too big of mind, and too honest of purpose to be led astray by such means. We are now upon the eve of another legislative session, and like the session of 1913, the majority in both the house and the senate is Democratic. The people of the state are expecting much that is good and beneficial from the coming general assembly, and in that we believe that there will be no disappointment. At a recent conference of the Democrats of the House it was easily to be seen that real constructive legislation would be pursued. All the pit falls of unwholesome legislation will be avoided, and a record of economy—real wholesome economy—will be given the people. Just keep your eye upon the Democratic majority in the general assembly of 1915. They will begin business January 7, so paste that date in your hat, and keep in touch with the legislative session.

MISS BERTHA PEDRO WEDS MAN 18 YEARS HER SENIOR.

Miss Bertha Pedro, the daughter of Mrs. Lottie Simms of Manhattan, and Alfred L. Allen, a farmer residing near the same town, were united in marriage here Wednesday by Justice of Peace Philip Frank. The ceremony was held in the private office of County Clerk A. J. Hamrick at 1 o'clock that afternoon. The bride is 18 years old and the groom is just twice as old as the girl. They will make their home on a farm near Manhattan.

DELINQUENT DOG TAXES COLLECTED BY PROSECUTOR

The people of Putnam county failing to pay the taxes on their dogs, have at last realized that the threats of Prosecuting Attorney William M. Sutherland were meant in good faith. Tuesday found several men of south Greencastle before Justice of Peace Phillip Frank, charged with harboring dogs on which no taxes have been paid. Several parties have called at the office of Township Trustee George Landes during the past few days and paid the taxes on their canines.

Mr. Sutherland has sent many notices to people of the county, threatening to file charges against them if taxes on their dogs was not paid immediately. Several farmers came to the office of Mr. Sutherland that day and paid him money for the taxes, which will be delivered to the trustee of the township in which the parties reside. He has threatened to prosecute cases against all of the people disregarding the notices and it would be well for them to give the matter immediate attention.

In many cases the parties notified disowned the dogs, but little leniency has been shown by the prosecutor. The man who harbors and shelters a dog, whether it is his own or the property of other persons, is liable for the taxes on the animal.

SUITOR WHO KILLED RIVAL, SHOUTS AND WEEPS IN JAIL

DANVILLE, Ind., Dec. 21.—Walter Seward, 21 years old, who Sunday shot and killed Charles Cashdollar, 22 years old, continued in such a state of hysteria today that he could give no coherent explanation of his crime. In his cell in the Hendricks County jail the young man alternately shouts and weeps. It was necessary Sunday night for a physician to administer a quieting potion. Seward killed Cashdollar, a rival for the hand of Miss Mabel McCormick, while Cashdollar was riding in a buggy with the young woman. Seward, who seems to be of low mentality, is not believed to be simulating insanity. He says only that he "went crazy" when he saw Cashdollar with the girl, whom he had formerly been engaged to marry, and that when he started hunting he had no idea that the shotgun he carried would be used to kill his rival.

A man giving his name as Beemer of Spencer was arrested on south Vine street by Policeman Frank Riley Monday night. He was arraigned in Mayor Cooper's court on Tuesday and a fine of $1 and amounting to $11 was imposed. He paid the fine and left town.

BOY BANDIT "PLAYS DEAD"

KOKOMO, Ind., Dec. 21.—Charles M. Wright, the boy who terrorized several women in eastern Howard County Saturday afternoon, was captured late today in a hay stack on the Curt Scherer farm, a mile south of Sycamore, Ind., by Sheriff McDaniel and son Nolan. Wright feigned sleep when captured and resisted all attempts to make him open his eyes for twenty minutes. Sheriff McDaniel finally tickled his ribs and the boy jumped. Two pocket knives, two watches, a lady's necklace and a locket, all taken from the John Ball home, where Wright lived, were found in the boy's pockets. The rifle and cartridges taken from the home were found beside the boy in the hay. The butcher knife which he took from Mrs. Ball has not been found. Wright, who is 14 years old, is in jail here, charged with larceny. Ball will push the case in an effort to send the boy, who, he says, is weak-minded, to the Indiana Boys' School. Wright was received in the Ball home about a year ago by an agent of an Indianapolis home. His home was in Bloomington, Ind.

SHORTEST DAY OF YEAR.

Monday, December 21, was the shortest day of the year, and is known as the winter solista or the beginning of winter. According to the old green geography, at this time, the earth in its annual tango around the sun is turned away from Old Sol, so that the vertical rays fall at a point 23½ degrees south of the equator and the tangent rays reach 23½ degrees south of the south pole, where the light doesn't do much good. As the sun appears to move northward the days will become longer and our electric light bills will be less.

SORORITY GIVES PARTY FOR FOX RIDGE CHILDREN

Twenty youngsters living at Fox Ridge were entertained Monday afternoon from four to six o'clock by the Alpha Phi sorority at the chapter house on east Seminary street. The entertainment was in the nature of a Christmas party with a real Santa Claus and a "treat" done up in little stockings. Each child present was recipient of a gift. Games of various kinds were enjoyed. The children who were entertained are members of a Fox Ridge Sunday school class.

IS A CANDIDATE FOR CHIEF CLERK

ARTHUR J. HAMRICK OF THIS TOWN PROBABLY WILL BE SELECTED BY LOWER HOUSE OF GENERAL ASSEMBLY WITHOUT OPPOSITION—TERM AS CLERK EXPIRES JANUARY 1.

ASSEMBLY BEGINS JAN. 7

Arthur J. Hamrick, clerk of Putnam county, probably will be the chief clerk in the House of Representatives of the 1915 session of the General Assembly. Mr. Hamrick has announced his candidacy for the appointment and probably will be the unanimous choice of the Democratic members of the House.

So far Mr. Hamrick is the only candidate to announce himself and the general impression is that he will be the only candidate. His term of clerk of Putnam county will end January 1 and the legislature will begin its session on January 7.

Mr. Hamrick is well fitted to fill the position to which he aspires and the House of Representatives will make no mistake in selecting him as their chief clerk.

ENTERTAIN FOR MEMBERS OF ART NEEDLE WORK CLUB

The members of the Art Needle Work club of this city were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. W. H. Jennings and Mrs. J. H. Heavens on south Locust street Tuesday afternoon with the annual Christmas club party. Twenty-five club members and five guests were entertained from 2 to 5 o'clock.

The house was prettily decorated with Christmas greens, and miniature evergreen trees were arranged in a very artistic manner throughout the home. The members of the club answered the roll call with short Christmas quotations which were very appropriate for the occasion. Four new members were taken into the organization at the entertainment Tuesday afternoon.

A delightful two-course luncheon was served. The hostesses were assisted in the dining room by Mrs. T. E. Evans, Mrs. Hubert Webster, Mrs. Lena Selby and Miss Ella Sparks. Dainty Christmas baskets filled with candy and short holiday greetings were given as favors.

Albert Doyle, of Marion, and W. S. Gard, of Clay county, two traveling examiners of the State Board of Accountants, are here to examine all of the county offices and all of the township trustees. They started work this morning at examining the records of County Clerk Arthur J. Hamrick's office. Mr. Doyle formerly attended De Pauw being a member of the class of '99. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity and has many friends in Greencastle.

RAILWAYS SEEK AN INCREASE IN RATES

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 31.—It was learned today that railways operating in Indiana are preparing to appeal to the 1915 Legislature to appeal the 2 cent fare law and substitute for it a law providing for a fare of 2½ cents a mile. Prior to the passage of the two cent law in 1907, the rate in Indiana was three cents a mile.

Representatives of nine steam railroads operating in the state made informal calls upon Governor Samuel M. Ralston, the members of the Public Service Commission and the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce today and outlined briefly the legislation they desire. Members of the Public Service Commission was asked to lend their moral support to the movement. They did not commit themselves.

MISS CHRISTINE BICKNELL AND HAROLD ANDERSON WED

The marriage of Miss Christine Bicknell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bicknell of this city and Harold Anderson, a young farmer of Madison township, was solemnized at the Locust Street Methodist church parsonage Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Bert DeWitt Beck read the marriage ceremony. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Anderson, who reside several miles west of this city in Madison township and is a promising young farmer. The couple will make their temporary home with the groom's parents.

A HAPPY CHRISTMAS FOR 50 GREENCASTLE CHILDREN

As the result of the efforts of Miss Lelia Talbott and Mrs. Anna Seales of the Putnam Electric company office fifty boxes filled with nuts, candies, oranges, toys and in many instances nice warm mittens and stockings, will be delivered to approximately fifty little children in Greencastle Thursday morning. The project of making happy the Christmas of Greencastle's poor children was started about two weeks ago by the two young women. At that time they expected only to distribute candies and fruit among these children but the announcement of their intentions was responded to so freely by Greencastle and Putnam county people that they soon had approximately $30 with which to secure presents for the little ones.

Tuesday the young women began to arrange their boxes. This morning the floor of the office of the Putnam Electric Light company was covered with Christmas boxes for the children. These are nice large boxes with lots of candies, nuts, oranges, toys, etc. Boxes which would make Christmas very happy for any child.

Clarence Vestal, the liveryman, has volunteered the use of a wagon for the distribution of the Christmas boxes. And as the result of the work of Mrs. Seales and Miss Talbott Greencastle's children are assured a most happy Christmas day.

Both young women desire to thank those who assisted them in their project.

CELEBRATE FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hill, who reside at the corner of Washington and Market street Tuesday celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary. They were the hosts at noon at a dinner, several relatives being the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Hill were married in Greencastle half a century ago and this has been their home since. Mr. Hill formerly was in business and both he and Mrs. Hill have a host of friends who wish them the joy of passing many more mile stones in their married life together.

Through its attorney, Jackson Boyd of this city, the Union Central Life Insurance company of Cincinnati, O., Saturday filed suit in the Putnam Circuit Court against Florence McLaughlin and others asking for judgment on a note for $3,000. The company alleges in the complaint that a loan of $2,000 was made to Arthur Stevenson and a promissory note for that sum was executed to the company, with a mortgage on a farm in Warren township given as security. The plaintiffs claim that the note is now due and unpaid. The company asks that judgment in the sum of $3,000 be granted and the foreclosure of the mortgage on the farm to satisfy the claim.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eiteljorge several miles west of the city, occurred the wedding of their daughter, Miss Charlotte, and Roy Judson, a young farmer of near Judson, Ind., Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. A. M. Hootman, pastor of the Christian church of this city, performed the ceremony in the presence of a number of relatives and intimate friends of the couple. The young people will make their home on a farm near Portland Mills.

FINE SERVICES AT DEDICATION OF NEW ORGAN

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS PRESENTATION AND ACCEPTANCE OF $10,000 INSTRUMENT GIVEN IN MEMORY OF THE LATE BISHOP BOWMAN BY MRS. SALLIE BOWMAN CALDWELL, IN MEHARRY HALL SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

STRONG SERMON ON WAR

An audience estimated at 800 attended the dedicatory services of the new $10,000 pipe organ recently presented to DePauw university by Mrs. Sallie Bowman Caldwell in memory of her father the late Bishop Thomas Bowman which were held in Meharry Hall Sunday afternoon. From beginning to end the services were among the most impressive of any ever held in the chapel auditorium and the large crowd of students and townspeople are loud in their praise of the generosity of Mrs. Caldwell. Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell were present at the dedication and expressed themselves as being entirely satisfied with the instrument that has been installed at such great expense.

On behalf of the benefactor of the school, Vice-President H. A. Gobin made the speech of presentation and the response was given by President G. R. Grose. In presenting the instrument Dr. Gobin reviewed briefly the life and characteristics of Bishop Bowman and declared that the gift was a fitting one to his memory. He told of the Bishop's great love for the school, of his unceasing efforts to have it grow stronger, of his great desire to do good for the youth that entered and departed from its doors, and of his exceedingly courageous spirit and great physical power. His life, Dr. Gobin said, was one of harmony—with God, his fellowman and himself—and an instrument that embodies this he declared to be the most appropriate monument to his memory.

In accepting the gift Dr. Grose expressed the great appreciation of the school and the community for it. He recalled the many great and good things of the life of the late Bishop and spoke of the earnest desire of Mrs. Caldwell to perpetuate the memory of these deeds. He called upon those in the audience to dedicate their lives anew to the service of God even as the new organ was being dedicated to that service.

The sermon of the afternoon was delivered by Dr. Grose on the subject, "Christianity and War." The speaker considered in his sermon the question of whether or not war ever is justifiable. He first refuted the argument of many that peace should be had at any cost on the ground that the Bible declares against war. Dr. Grose denied that Jesus ever declared against war directly but that his teachings were of such a nature that the tendency of man's thought is towards peace. He said that Christ never openly condemned human slavery but that man eventually abolished it as wrong; that he never said in so many words that the manufacture of intoxicating liquors should be prohibited but that man gradually is coming to see in this the wise course.

On the other hand the speaker declared that war seldom is justifiable. He cited the present great conflict as proof sufficient that the armament of nations is not the surest way to maintain peace and the peace pact between England and America that has existed for over 100 years even without a border gun between the U. S. and Canada as conclusive evidence as long as nations do not prepare for war they will not have war. He condemned the actions of a few senators who now are agitating a stronger army and navy but thanked God that at the head of the nation is a man who is not a militarist.

The argument of war advocates that conflict is necessary to prevent the citizenry from becoming effeminate also was condemned by Dr. Grose. He declared that the great accomplishments of the business and professional world call for as great a display of valor as does the battlefield. The conflict.

BENEFIT SHOW PLEASES CROWD

THREE SHORT PLAYLETS AND A MUSICAL PROGRAM OFFERED BY LOCAL AMATEURS AS A BENEFIT FOR THE ST. PAUL'S CATHOLIC CHURCH PLEASE A LARGE AUDIENCE IN ASBURY CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC AUDITORIUM THURSDAY EVENING.

MISS EDNA WEST POPULAR

An entertainment in the auditorium of the Asbury Conservatory of Music Thursday evening, given by the pupils of that institution and other local talent, was considered one of the best amateur performances ever seen in the city. The program consisted of three short playlets, readings and vocal and instrumental music. A neat sum of money was cleared as a result of a good sale of seats. The audience filled the auditorium to its capacity.

Miss Edna West, the 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milo West, who resides south of the city, furnished the most pleasing numbers on the program. Her interpretation of two readings, "Naughty Zeli" and "The Bird's Christmas Carol" was excellent, her expression and actions were splendid. The audience was enthusiastic in its applause of both numbers.

"Who Are You?", enacted by Miss Katherine Allen, Edwin Watson and Horace Westman was also received enthusiastically and proved to be a very comical production. Miss Allen, who took the leading role, acquitted herself in a very pleasing manner. Each of the characters were impersonated in a realistic style.

Mrs. John Young, Miss Margaret Callender, Frank Cannon, Jr., and Raymond Welsh in "A Paper Match," rendered a comic sketch, which created much laughter. The part of each member of the cast was played to perfection, especially that of the spinster, which was enacted by Mrs. Young. The characters in "One Little Shoe," which were taken by Miss Marie Louise Pettyjohn and Otis Adams, was another comic sketch, depicting the husband and wife in a family squabble. The parts were exceedingly difficult, but both actors proved equal to the occasion and a comedy, which created much amusement was the result.

Miss Margaret Kreigh, in two vocal numbers, "The Wind," and "The Eyes of Irish Blue" made a lasting impression with her hearers. The excellence of both numbers was shown by the applause the singer received. She was forced to reappear after each number in answer to the applause of the audience. Two vocal numbers by Albert Moran proved to be popular numbers on the program and each were very pleasing. "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," a popular song hit, was rendered with faultless precision, and the vocalist was called to the stage for an encore after this number.

An instrumental trio composed of Miss Blanche Statton, piano; Miss Garnett Sackett, violin, and Clarence Hazelett was well received and the merit of the numbers rendered by the young people, was greatly appreciated.

The program is as follows: Trio—"Serenade" Titi Miss Garnett Sackett, Miss Blanche Statton and Clarence Hazelett. Voice—"I Know a Lovely Garden" d'Hardelot. "It's a Long Way to Tipperary" Judge and Williams Albert Moran. Comedy in one act—"One Little Shoe" Miss Marie Pettyjohn and Otis Adams. Reading—"Naughty Zeli" "The Bird's Christmas Carol." Miss Edna West. Comedy in one act—"Who Are You?" Miss Katherine Allen, Edwin Watson and Horace Westman. Voice—"The Wind" Spross b. "The Eyes of Irish Blue" Miss Margaret Kreigh. Comedy in one act—"A Paper Match" Mrs. John Young, Miss Margaret Callender, Frank Cannon and Raymond Welsh.

Monon Sells Old Engines. Nine locomotives that have seen their best days have been sold by the Monon to a company in Chicago. They are the smaller type of engines and have for some time been in the scrap pile at the shops. The old engines will be given slight repairs in the shops and will be sent to South Hammond—Bloomington World.

Miss Gerald Thomas has returned to her home in this city after a several days' visit with Miss Helen Martin of Indianapolis.

THE LAWYERS AND PARTIES IN CASE ARE ALL RELATED.

The fact that the lawyers and the parties implicated in the case of Frank Sutherland and Piercy Sutherland against Jesse Sutherland and Charles Sutherland, which was tried in the Putnam Circuit Court are all related, has caused much comment here during the past several days.

Frank Sutherland and Piercy Sutherland, the plaintiffs in the case, and Jesse Sutherland and Charles Sutherland, the defendants, are second cousins. Marion Clodfelter, of Crawfordsville, the attorney for the plaintiff, both the complaining parties and the defendants, are cousins. And now—it happens that the attorneys have a relationship which makes them second cousins.

It was one case where the attorneys were willing to admit that the opposing parties were mighty fine people and their claims are at least considered reasonable. Although the case was closely contested, the ill feeling and hotly contested arguments between the counsels for the parties in court, which are usually noticeable in all trials, was lacking during the entire controversy.

Frank Sutherland and Piercy Sutherland asked for a quiet title on land in Russell township and Jesse Sutherland and Charles Sutherland were made the defendants. All the witnesses were examined Thursday and Friday and the case went to the jury late Friday afternoon.

TO HOLD SERVICES AT COUNTY HOUSE

WOMEN OF THE COMMUNITY HAVE COMPLETED ARRANGEMENT FOR THE HOLDING OF MEETINGS ON EVERY OTHER SUNDAY DURING THE YEAR OF 1915.

CHURCHES FURNISH LEADER

As the result of the work of several church women of the community, it has been arranged to hold religious services at the Putnam county county house, four miles east of Greencastle, every other Sunday during the year of 1915.

Under the arrangement the several Greencastle, Mt. Meridian and Filmore churches will supply the leaders for the meetings which are to be held at the county house. A large hall in the main building of the county house will be arranged so that the inmates of the home will have a comfortable place during the meetings.

The schedule of meetings, showing the church which will have charge of the services, follows:

January 3	Locust Street
January 17	College Avenue
January 31	Christian Church
February 14	Y. M. C. A.
February 28	Mt. Meridian
March 14	Filmore M. E.
March 28	Y. W. C. A.
April 11	Freshwater Church
April 25	Baptist Church
May 9	Filmore Christian Church
May 23	Locust Street
June 6	College Avenue
June 20	Christian Church
July 4	Filmore M. E.
July 18	Fox Ridge
Aug 1	Filmore Christian
Aug 15	Baptist Church
Aug 29	Perseverance S. S. B.
Sept. 12	Locust Street
Oct. 10	College Avenue
Oct. 24	Christian Church
Nov. 7	Mt. Meridian
Nov. 21	Y. M. C. A.
Dec. 5	(To be Supplied)
Dec. 19	(To be Supplied)

It is the intention of those interested in the work to have good music and short talks, so that the meetings will not be tiresome, but will be most enjoyable for the inmates. The project is a most worthy one and deserves the hearty support of the churches of the county.

PUPILS RENDER A CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

SPECIAL EXERCISES ARE HELD AT ALL GREENCASTLE SCHOOL BUILDINGS BEFORE DISMISSAL FOR ANNUAL CHRISTMAS VACATION—PARENTS AND OTHER VISITORS ARE THE GUESTS.

THE PROGRAMS ARE VARIED

The time of the coming of Santa Claus—the one big occasion in the yearly calendar of all children—was fittingly observed in the Greencastle schools today. From the primary grades of the ward buildings to the different classes in the high school all pupils either participated in or were present to listen to varied programs appropriate to the season. Many parents and friends of the pupils were present to hear the interesting programs given by the children at the ward buildings. At the close of the programs the pupils were dismissed for the two weeks' Christmas vacation.

At the high school building the program principally was a musical one. The high school orchestra and glee club both appeared and delighted the students with several selections. At noon the high school pupils brought clothing, and food to the school building to be given to the organization of club women of the town who are directing the work of relief among the poor.

Many pupils were on the programs at the first ward building and the occasion was a very enjoyable one for all. The first, second and third grades, under the direction of Miss Adams, rendered the following program:

Song—"Oh December."
Doris Bee—Recitation.
Charles Watts—Recitation.
Louise Boone—Recitation.
Florence Evans—Recitation.
Second song—"Santa Claus Land."
Russell Reagan—Recitation.
Wilma Hintorff—Recitation.
George Hoffman—Recitation.
Regina Hampton—Recitation.
Xmas exercise—Twelve boys.

Third song—"Sleep Little One in Your Tiny White Bed."
Mary Louise Duncan—Recitation.
Clellan Varvel—Recitation.
Exercise—Merle Burdett, Pearl Crooks, Helen Turner, and Lorine Williams.

Exercise—"Toyland"—Two Boys.
Josephine Stoner—Recitation.
Fourth song—"Tell Me What You Have for Me."

Margaret Hughes—Recitation.
Exercise—"Sleepy Dolls."
Irma Sears—Recitation.
Ray Smith—Recitation.
Exercise—Gilbert Reeves, Elmer Ader, Ernest Durham, William Ader, Elmer Craver—Recitation.
Julia Sweet—Recitation.
Mary Anna Stoner—Recitation.
Maxine McAnally—Recitation.
Charles Daggry—Recitation.
Clyde Ash—Recitation.
Paul Blake—Recitation.
Elizabeth Stoner—Recitation.
Mary Wass—Recitation.
"Santa Claus"—Marion King.

At the same building, the pupils of Prof. Thomas' room presented a Christmas sketch entitled "Christmas at Skeeter Corner." The idea of the sketch was that the different characters were rehearsing in the afternoon for a play to be given at night. Each pupil entered into the occasion with great interest and the sketch was pronounced one of the most humorous ever given in the school buildings. The cast of characters for the sketch follows:

"Samanth"—Lucile Gillespie.
"Silas"—Byron Stewart.
"Maria"—Roxie Day.
"Sambo"—Phillip Maxwell.
Song—"Red Glows the Holly."
"Rebekah"—Bessie Parker.
"Hiram"—Roy Redsecker.
"Hank"—Chester McDonald.
"Tony"—James Lynch.
"Fritz"—Louis Stegmiller.
"Jimmy"—Earl Couchman.
"Hanna"—Earl White.
"Bill"—Robert Stoner.
Song—"Christmas Carol."
"Sallie"—Ruby Wright.
"Tom"—Marshall Abrams.
"George Washington Lee"—Harry Gray.

"Sophronia"—Nona Lear.
School Maam—Hazel Smith.
Song—"German Song."
Santa Claus—Marshall Snider.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Editor Herald:—For many years I have taken considerable time to furnish our people, through our daily papers, with the correct temperature, especially of very cold and very warm spells. And while the most of our people appreciate it yet there are some who are always ready to start a contention in regard to the accuracy of the temperature.

And so I am going to try to put all such people right on the subject. Of course in doing so I will not attempt to convince Brazil, the town of the biggest Sunday school in the world and likewise the worst moist shop of any town of its size in America. Now there are several elements entering into the temperature question. First, every one who has a ten cent thermometer thinks of course, that it is absolutely correct, when the fact is, none of the mercury or spirit thermometers are correct after the temperature reaches 10 degrees above zero or 90 degrees below zero. At these points the mercury or spirits in the tube loses its power to a certain extent and does not register correctly.

Second, ninety-nine thermometers out of every hundred are hung up against a building which is not a fair test by eight to ten degrees. A thermometer should hang out on a post of course, not where the sun can strike it, so the air can circulate around it. Third, there is a difference often in a distance of two blocks of as much as four degrees in temperature. But the greatest contention over the temperature is from people who swear by Indianapolis; because our temperature does not agree with Indianapolis then we must certainly be wrong, while the fact is, the temperature in Indianapolis is from eight to ten degrees warmer than Greencastle due to the many heated buildings, factories, etc. If Indianapolis should wish to get the true temperature of that locality she should go out at least five miles from the city limits. No we do not have to go to Indianapolis for correct temperature or anything else. Greencastle has more educated people to the square-inch than Indianapolis ever heard tell of. Old DePauw has furnished Indianapolis with educated men and women for nearly one hundred years. So hereafter understand that the temperature we furnish in Greencastle is Greencastle temperature taken by a self-registering metallic instrument and also is the coldest point during the night, not what it is at seven or eight o'clock in the morning. For instance Monday night the coldest point reached was 16 below zero. Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock the same instrument marked only 10 degrees below zero.

A NEW FURNITURE STORE IS OPENED

MCCURRY & REED'S FIRST DAY IN BUSINESS IN GREENCASTLE ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD TO THEIR STORE ON WEST SIDE OF THE SQUARE—COMMODIOUS BUSINESS ROOMS OPENED TO PUBLIC.

STORE CROWDED ALL DAY

The formal opening of the McCurry & Reed Furniture store and Undertaking business, located in the Hays building on the west side of the square, attracted a large crowd to the store Saturday.

The newly decorated and remodeled rooms of the store, were most attractive and the display of furniture was greatly admired by the throng which filled the store all day long.

Arrangement of the store is most fitting for the business opened by the new proprietors. The first floor is devoted to the display of furniture, while the second floor is devoted to the rug display and undertaking department.

Charles Reed and Jacob McCurry, the proprietors, each are licensed embalmers and have had several years' experience in the furniture and undertaking business. Mr. Reed is at present the owner of a furniture and undertaking business in Stilesville, but will devote most of his time to the local business.

Miss Minnie Torr, who is teaching school at Connorsville, came here on Sunday to spend the Christmas vacation with relatives who reside south west of the city. Miss Torr is a graduate of DePauw university and has many friends here.

FAIL TO BREAK LOSING STREAK

BASKETBALL TEAM ONCE MORE GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT—BLOOMINGTON HIGH SCHOOL TEAM SHOWS CLASS AND RUNS UP A BIG SCORE IN LAST FEW MINUTES OF PLAY—GAME IS FAST AND CLEAN AND VERY INTERESTING—SCORE 42 TO 9.

LOCALS PUT UP HARD FIGHT

The Greencastle high school basketball team went down to defeat before the Bloomington high school aggregation, in a fast and interesting game played on the high school gymnasium floor at Bloomington Friday evening. The score was 42 to 9. A fair conception of the contest is not to be gained by comparing the scores registered by the two teams, for the game was hard fought, fast, clean and interesting throughout.

Although the Monroe county team led the local aggregation throughout the game, it was not until the last ten minutes of play that many points were registered by the Bloomington lads. The contest started with a rush and both teams fought hard during the entire period. The score was 15 to 7 in Bloomington's favor at the end of the first frame. The locals players secured many more shots at the hoop than did their opponents during the first half, but were very inaccurate. The Bloomington players took advantage of each opportunity to hit the hoop and were very successful in their attempts.

The last ten minutes of play found the locals clearly outclassed and the Bloomington team played rings around the Greencastle basket-tossers. Rodgers, the Bloomington center, was the star performer of the evening. The lanky player made basket after basket in the last few minutes of play, despite the efforts of the locals to solve his clever plays. The Bloomington players depended greatly upon the center's ability to cage the ball and he secured many more shots at the hoop than any of the other lads. During the entire fray he registered 12 goals from the field.

The passing and team work of both aggregations was considered excellent, and there was not a single minute of the game that the contest was not keenly interesting. The Greencastle players handled the ball in great shape and the fact that they were unable to hit the basket is indirectly responsible for the overwhelming defeat. A great improvement was shown by the Greencastle team and the listless spirit that has characterized the playing of the quintet in practically all the games was absent. Much favorable comment has been made by the local boys about the excellent treatment received from the Bloomington players and large audience that witnessed the game. The high school of that town has a fine gymnasium which would do credit to many Indiana colleges.

The Smithville high school team won a game from the Bloomington second team in a contest, which was played as a curtain-raiser to the Greencastle game.

The line-up and summary of the game is as follows:

G. H. S., 9.	B. H. S., 42.
Handy..... Forward	Myers, Allen..... O'Hair.
Burks..... Forward	Wells McIntosh.
O'Brien..... Center	Rodgers
McIntosh..... Guard	Reed Dunlavy.
Welch..... Guard	Louden
Referee—"Cotton Berndt of Indiana.

Field Goals—Myers, 2; Wells, 4; Rodgers, 12; Handy, 1; Reed, 2; McIntosh, 1; O'Brien, 1.
Foul Tosses—O'Brien, 3 of 5 attempts; Rodgers, 2 of 5 attempts.
Attendance—400.

BIG REVIVAL TO OPEN MARCH 28

KERR BROTHERS, FAMOUS
EVANGELISTS, OF DETROIT,
MICHIGAN, WILL CONDUCT
MEETINGS AT LOCUST STREET
CHURCH—TO CONTINUE OVER
THREE SUNDAYS AND EXCEL-LENT RESULTS ARE EXPECT-ED.

HAVE GREAT REPUTATION

What is expected to be one of the most effective and far-reaching revivals held in Greencastle in many years will begin at the Locust street church on March 28, when the Kerr brothers, famous evangelists, will open a series of meetings. The announcement of Thursday that the official board of the local church had voted to bring the Kerr brothers here was welcome news to many people and already plans are being made for the series of meetings.

The evangelistic meetings will continue for at least two weeks, the Kerr brothers having agreed to be here over three Sundays. It is probable that if the meetings are the success that they are expected to be the evangelist, will remain Greencastle for a longer time.

The reputation that the Kerr brothers have attained throughout the country assures most interesting meetings with good results. It is said that there are few evangelistic companies in the country who can command a larger hearing and bring greater good to the community than they. The Kerr brothers recently conducted a series of revival meetings at Columbus for several weeks and they met with astonishing success in that city. Several hundred people were converted and have become members of the church.

Preparations are being made by Rev. Beck and the officials of the church for a thorough campaign that is expected to greatly increase the membership of the church and congregation.

She Whacked Consumption.

She was richly gowned and bedecked with furs and jewels. He was a shabby, wizen-faced sort of man. Both of them came up to the Red Cross Seal booth at the same time. "My wife is dying with consumption," he said in a husky voice, "and we ain't got much money, because I'm out of work, but she did want me to buy five of them seals. She says if she can take a whack at consumption afore she dies, she'll rest easier, an' I guess she will." He wiped his eyes with his knuckles and reached for the package of seals which the pretty attendant had put up for him.

"Where do you live?" said the richly dressed woman, who had been an interested listener to the shabby man's brief story. He gave an address in one of the poorest tenement-house neighborhoods.

"I was going to buy a few seals for my little girl," said the woman; "but your wife's desire to get a whack at consumption has shown me what I should do. Please give my fifty dollars worth, miss. Tell your wife that she gave consumption a bigger whack than she expected."

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Morris Frank Woods, of Filmore, and Miss Hazel Lydick, of Coatesville.

Roy Porter, of Judson, and Miss Charlotte Eiteljorge, of Madison township.

Mr. and Mrs. Tilden McNeff, who reside south of Putnamville, are the parents of a son born Monday.

HOW THE RED CROSS SEAL ORIGINATED

Nearly $1,900,000 has been raised by Red Cross Christmas Seals in the last six years, and yet many people, who will buy these holiday stickers at this seventh annual sale do not know how the charity stamp idea originated.

It was war that brought forth the charity stamp—our Civil War of '61 to '65. Some of your grandmothers first played "postoffice" with stickers similar to Red Cross Seals 'way back in 1862, when they conceived the idea of selling stamps at fairs for the benefit of the relief funds for the soldiers' hospitals in Brooklyn, Boston and elsewhere. Nearly $1,000,000 was raised in this way before 1865. After the war this method of raising money was discontinued in this country for a generation, although it found vogue in Portugal, Switzerland, Austria, France, Spain, Denmark, Norway, Russia, Sweden and other European countries. There are now several thousands of different types of charity stamps used in all parts of the world, as many as forty being used in Austria for children's hospitals alone.

Stamps on seals were first used to get money for the anti-tuberculosis crusade in Norway and Sweden in 1904. To Jacob Riis, the well-known social worker of New York, and to Miss Emily P. Bissell, the energetic secretary of the Delaware Red Cross, jointly belong the honor of originating our American Red Cross Christmas Seal. In 1909, Mr. Riis' interest was aroused by the receipt of a Christmas tuberculosis stamp on a letter from Norway. He published an article about this queer-looking stamp in the "Outlook," and suggested some possible uses for it in this country. Miss Bissell at once saw an opportunity here and prepared a stamp, from the seal which her society realized $3,600 for tuberculosis work. So impressed was she with this success that she induced the American Red Cross to take up the sale in 1908 on a national basis. With very little organization and with hardly any attempt at careful advertising the sale that year brought in, nevertheless, over $135,000 for anti-tuberculosis work in various parts of the United States. In 1909, with more thorough organization, the sale was increased to nearly $310,000; in 1911 to over $300,000, and in 1912 to over $400,000. Last year the sale was increased to nearly 45,000,000 seals, netting $450,000 for the anti-tuberculosis campaign.

It is fitting to note that war, inhuman and cruel, was the mother of the Red Cross Seal, and that now war for humanity against disease brings it back to its fullest usefulness.

DENMAN TO COLLECT BOOSTER CLUB DUES

Richard Denman has been chosen by the executive board of the new Greencastle Booster Club as the collector of the first month's dues to the organization. Mr. Denman started on his new work on Monday evening and today reports that he is having success in getting in the money that is due the organization.

The plan of having a special employee collect the dues of the organization was formulated when it was seen that the task would require considerable time. There are over 200 members in the organization at present and each of these must be seen in each month's canvass. Receipts are already filled out and members are asked to have their money ready when the collector calls upon them.

If the present plan of collecting the dues is successful, Mr. Denman or some other person will be engaged permanently to care for this part of the work.

Reuben Lawson, a young farmer of near Rockville, and Miss Margaret L. Craft of Rockville, were married in the private office of County Clerk Hamrick on Thursday at 3 o'clock. Justice of Peace Philip Frank read the wedding ceremony. They will reside near Rockville.

THE "MARROW OF LIFE"

When Pierre Loti was in this country a good deal was said of his tendency to aloofness from the shams and turmoils of great cities, the insincerity and sophistication of much social intercourse, the merciless stress of modern ways of living. Since then we have happened on the words of a New England philosopher and nature worshiper who, long before Loti, turned his back on towns. Henry D. Thoreau wrote:

I went to the woods because I wished to live deliberately. I wanted to live deep and suck out all the marrow of life, to live so sturdily and Spartan-like as to put to rout all that was not life.

Our life is frittered away by detail. I say let your affairs be as two or three, and not a hundred or a thousand; instead of a million, count half a dozen and keep your accounts on your thumb nail. In the midst of this chopping sea of civilized life, such are the clouds and storms and quicksands and thousand and one items to be allowed for, that a man has to live, if he would not flounder and go to the bottom and not make his port at all by dead reckoning, and he must be a great calculator indeed who succeeds. Simplify, simplify.

Why should we live such hurry and waste of life? We are determined to be starved before we are hungry. Men say that a stitch in time saves nine, and so they take a thousand stitches to-day to save nine to-morrow. As for work, we haven't any of any consequence. We have the St. Vitus' dance and cannot possibly keep our heads still.

Thoreau and Loti are little alike. But they both revolt against the squirrel-cage life which thunders along so furiously that it destroys the art of living. The man who really wishes to get the most out of life doesn't do things merely because his neighbors are doing them. He takes time to get his bearings—takes time to live.—Collier's.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THE CHURCHES?

Presbyterian churches in New York City on a recent Sunday showed a significant decrease in the size of congregations compared with ten years ago. Membership in these churches has increased 2109 in this period but attendance has fallen off 1500. Although this comparison is for a single Sunday only, and therefore not an altogether conclusive test of church attendance, it is undoubtedly true that there has been a general decline in church attendance, and that the Presbyterian is not different from other denominations in this respect. As one minister points out, many people holding membership in Manhattan churches live in distant boroughs and therefore attend their own church but occasionally.

Yet in small cities where this explanation does not apply, churches are confronted with the same problems of diminishing attendance. The church was never so equipped as it is today with organizations for social activities of a helpful sort, and never before were so many people at work at carrying on these activities; but the fact remains that the obligation to go to church on Sunday sits altogether too lightly on the minds of the rank and file of church members.

A changed conception of Sunday itself has much to do with this condition. Sunday has become the great out-of-doors day, a time for "week-end" visits and entertainments, the principal day of the week for pleasure. This use of Sunday has invaded the ranks of the church. The only difference between the Sunday of a church member and the non-church member is that, occasionally, when nothing more important seems to conflict, the former goes to church.

A Presbyterian elder, who is also a banker, is quoted in one of the papers as saying that the remedy is to enlist "young hustlers" in the ministry, so that churches may be brought up to the times in methods and equipment. But the churches are not behind the times in method and equipment. "Young hustlers" would be a good thing to have in the ministry, nor would it be out of place to have a crop of "young hustlers" in the pews.

Possibly the surest and best way to fill the pews would be to begin with the young, training the children of the Sunday School to attend church as well as Sunday School, and instilling in their minds a sense of loyalty to the church's services of worship.

From Leslie's

How He Managed

Teacher—Now, children, try to figure just this once without counting on your fingers. How much is three and four?

Peperl (looking under the bench after a long wait)—Seven.

Teacher—Right. Four and six?

Peperl (again peeping under the bench)—Ten.

Teacher—Hold up there you little rascal! I'll teach you to count on your fingers! (Takes Peperl's hands and clasps them behind his back.) Now, then, five and three?

Peperl (after another long look under the bench)—Eight.

Teacher—Well, how did you manage to do that?

Peperl—With my toes, teacher.

Worse Still.

Miss Antee—"He is the most insulting young man I ever met."

Her Friend—"Did he ask you how old you were?"

"No; he asked me how old I said I was."

OUR BOYS and GIRLS

HER "LIFE" CLASS.

Just Keeps Things Moving When She Gives the Children a Party.

There is no day in the year, with the possible exception of Christmas and Fourth of July, that means so much to a child's heart as the birthday. Then, for a time at least, he or she is a persona grata and holds undisputed sway. At school clamoring mates emulate one another in the resounding slap or kiss, and at home personal tastes are remembered in the form of favorite pie or pudding. If there be a party—and what is a child's birthday without a party?—the youngster is the central figure around which the whole function revolves.

A nice old-fashioned "homey" party for little girls is easily managed. If they can bring their dolls or dogs, play "tableaux" or any of the time-honored games dear to children's hearts, all is well and they are happy. With the boys it is another and more difficult proposition.

"Bobbie has just had his birthday party," sighed one mother to another. "It was a very simple affair; just a few of the boys and girls in the neighborhood. Soap bubbles on the carpenter's bench under the trees, a few games, ice cream and cake. But there were 'unpleasantnesses.'"

"Dorothy came up weeping, saying that Dick Waldron had pinched her, and a tiny little boy was so sorely beset by some of his companions that he ran home. I am sure there was no malice intended, but it does seem a vast amount of lubricating had to be done to have the children keep peace, and I am thankful it is all over."

The best "lubricant" where children are present is to keep host and guest so constantly employed that the shy and awkward ones are at once seized with the holiday spirit and the irrepressibles have no chance to become boisterous. There should be a carefully mapped out programme of games, songs, marches and drills in which every child can take part. They join with infinite spirit in the catchy, breezy and popular songs or national airs.

Let one game grow out of another, a standing and running game alternating with a sitting one, that the children may not grow bored. Do not neglect action. Children do not care to sit still and "be told things"; they prefer to do them. Old-time games, such as London Bridge, drop the handkerchief, blind man's buff and Lydia Jones, are always popular.

If the weather be warm it is much better to have the fun out of doors, so spread the table under the trees. Supper is usually the climax and the easiest part of a child's party. It is the first hour that makes or mars; after that all is plain sailing.

Refreshments should be simple, digestible and daintily served. Novelties of all kinds score immediately. Each place can have its name card. If it be nothing more than a frosted cookie, with the youngster's initials outlined in chocolate, so much the better.

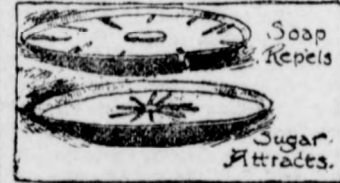

A tiny, inexpensive toy as a souvenir of the occasion will bring joy to the most sated heart, and if activity be rampant from the beginning to the end of the fete all must vote it an unqualified success.—New York Sun.

Attraction and Repulsion.

Get a saucer of water, a small piece of loaf sugar, a small piece of soap and a number of bits of matches or toothpicks, and you are ready for an interesting experiment. First place some of the bits of wood in the water in the saucer so they will float; we will call them boys. Now drop the piece of soap in the water among the "boys" and see how they will run away from it. Boys don't like soap, you understand.

Now take a fresh saucer of water and drop some new match-bits into it and call them girls. Next drop the piece of sugar into the water and see how the girls will run up to it and stick there. This shows the difference between boys and girls.

Perhaps you would like to know why the little bits of wood behave so differently in the two cases. Without going into deep scientific explanations the long and short of it is that the soap in dissolving causes an oily film to spread over the surface of the water, and this film in radiating from the centre carries the sticks with it. The sugar in dissolving acts in a different way; the dissolved sugar being heavier than the water, settles to the bottom, causing a slight current toward the centre of the saucer from the edges and carrying the sticks with it. The action in either case soon ceases.

What do I see in baby's eyes?

Shut tight! shut tight!
The blue is gone, the light is hid;
I'll lay a soft kiss on each lid.
Good-night! good-night!

FARMERS IN LEAD IN MAKE-UP OF LEGISLATURE

The farmer is coming into his own in the session of the legislature that will open January 7. There will be forty farmers in the house, but there will be only four in the senate. There will be twenty-nine Democratic farmers and eleven Republican farmers in the house. This will be the largest number of farmers in the house of representatives in many years and it bids fair to stand as a record for a long time to come.

Lawyers will be second in the house with a total of thirty-two. Of these twenty are Democrats and eleven Republicans.

There will be sixty-one Democratic members of the house. In addition to the farmers and the lawyers, they are classified as follows: Merchants, 2; contractors, 2; manufacturers, 1; banker, 1; bridge manufacturer and builder, 1; machinist, 1; live stock dealer, 1; hardware dealer, 1; teacher, 1; railroad passenger conductor, 1.

The Republicans will have thirty-eight members of the house, and besides the farmers and lawyers they are classified as follows: Real estate dealer, 1; traveling salesman, 1; automobile manufacturer, 1; physicians, 2; clerk, 1; grain dealer, 1; lodge officer, 1; ex-county clerk, 1; occupations not ascertained, 3.

The lone Progressive member of the house is a manufacturer.

Lawyers will predominate in the senate, there being a total of sixteen, of whom thirteen are Democrats and three Republicans. The forty-one Democratic senators are classified as follows: Dentists, 1; merchants, 2; lawyers, 13; editors, 4; physician, 1; manufacturer, 1; contractors, 2; salesman, 1; livaryman, 1; druggist, 3; banker, 1; civil engineer, 1; coal operator, 1; hardware dealer, 1; life insurance agents, 2; capitalist, 1; ex-county treasurer, 1; occupation not ascertained, 1.

The eight Republican senators are as follows: Lawyers, 3; lumber dealer, 1; manufacturers, 2; farmer, 1; teacher, 1.

The Progressives will have a senator, also, and he is listed as a merchant and manufacturer.

With 40 per cent of the total membership of the house actual farmers, it is pointed out that they will have power enough to do about as they please in the session, and this gives color to the prediction that was made by Democratic representatives at their conference at Indianapolis on Thursday that a policy of economy would prevail in the coming session. The proverbial economy of the farmer will have full opportunity to show itself and power to make itself felt.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM FOR WEEKLY MUSIC RECITAL.

The regular meeting of the Twentieth Century Club which was held Thursday afternoon in the assembly room of the city library was one of the most delightful of the season. Following a most interesting literary program which consisted of papers, "South American Women and Their Home Life" by Mrs. A. M. Hootman, and "South American Literature" by Mrs. H. G. Watts, the members were entertained by Mrs. Barlow, the hostess. The entertainment consisted of delightful refreshments which were served at the Martha Washington Tea room.

BASKET BALL SCHEDULE TO BE CANCELLED

HIGH SCHOOL OFFICIALS CON-
DEMN ARMORY AS UNSAFE
PLACE TO PLAY FOLLOWING
ACTION OF UNIVERSITY AU-THORITIES AND OWNER OF BUILDING—NO GAMES WERE PLAYED SATURDAY.

IS BIG DISAPPOINTMENT

Officials of the local high school Saturday morning condemned the Greencastle armory as an unsafe place in which to play basketball and ordered that all games scheduled for the rest of the season be cancelled. The action was announced by Superintendent Henderson, following the decision of a few days ago of DePauw university officials prohibiting a freshman team from playing in the armory, and the statement of S. A. Hays, owner of the armory building, that he did not care to have basketball continued under his sanction.

In accordance with the order of Mr. Henderson, Edward Pitkin, manager of the high school basketball team, is making arrangements to cancel all games. The contests scheduled for Saturday between the local school and the Roachdale quintet and the DePauw freshman and Filmore teams was not played.

A few days ago a committee consisting Heber Ellis, graduate manager of DePauw athletics; Hubert Webster, superintendent of buildings and grounds, and Robert Graham, a local contractor, was appointed by the university to inspect the armory building and ascertain if it would be safe to have the university freshman team continue with basketball. The committee reported that the place was not safe and the freshman team was disbanded. In the face of this report Mr. Hays felt that he could not afford to run the risk of being responsible for any accidents that might happen during basketball games. The only course left for the school authorities was to announce the same decision and order the season finished.

The necessary turn that the basketball situation has taken here is a great disappointment to Superintendent Henderson and other high school officials. Recently the season's schedule was revised and with the increased interest that was being taken in the sport, the coming schedule was being looked forward to with much anticipation. It is not considered probable that any arrangements can be made to continue the game here as the armory building was the only available one for contests.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED FOR THE FIDDLERS' CONTEST

Arrangements have been completed by the Greencastle herd of Loyal Order of Moose, No. 1592, for the staging of an old-time fiddlers' contest in the opera house Monday night, December 28th. The lodge will be assisted in offering a prize list for the best numbers on the program by the merchants and manufacturing concerns of the city, and one of the largest crowds of old-time fiddlers and musicians ever congregated in the city is expected to take part in the contest.

Putnam county has several old-time fiddlers and the big prize list which will be offered for the many contests on the program to be given by the Moose lodge, undoubtedly will induce all the musicians to participate in the event. Vaudeville acts and several varied numbers will be included on the program. A few of the fifty events in the contest are as follows: best looking fiddler, best "Sugar in the Gourd" or "Turkey in the Straw," best "Sugar in the Coffee," best "Arkansas Traveler," best "Hell on the Wabash," best boy fiddler, best lady fiddler, largest family of fiddlers, the laziest fiddler, the best all-around fiddler of the evening to take a grand prize, longest haired fiddler, oldest fiddler, tallest fiddler, worst fiddler, best banjo player, best guitar player, best quartette, best lady singer, best girl singer, best buck and wing dancer, best old style shuffle dancer and the best whistler.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of Mrs. Mary E. Huffman, who died Dec. 18, 1911:
Mother rests in peace, so we rejoice,
Though tears they dim our eyes;
We seem to hear her angel voice
Singing in the skies.
The golden gates were open,
A gentle voice said, "Come,"
And with farewell unspoken
She calmly entered home.

PROSECUTOR BAKER'S STATEMENT.

If it is possible for a newspaper to manipulate a grand jury to serve its malignant persecution of a man or any group of men, it goes without argument that we no longer enjoy the right vouchsafed under the federal and state constitutions.

If it can be done in one case it could be done in other cases, and if such a thing is possible no man's freedom or reputation is safe in the community where the iniquitous situation existed.

For this reason the remarks made by County Prosecutor Baker, in open court, in his introductory statement of the state's case against the men recently indicted on charges of irregularities in the last legislature should not be permitted to go unnoticed by the community, and if there is in the state the proper machinery to make a real investigation of them, that investigation should be started at once and prosecuted with vigor until we have the truth.

Witness the prosecuting officer of Marion county, in open court, making this statement:

"It is a proud day for me that in the face of malignant and designing press that I have hurried this trial that the court may decide these cases. A malignant press by insinuation has made suggestions that these indictments were returned near midnight."

"I want to say that it was by the machinations of that press its own efforts, that they were returned at midnight. The grand jury sought for a purpose to return the report at a time when an afternoon paper might 'scoop' its opponents, and rather than submit to that this court sent the bailiff to get a missing juror at the late hour of 11 o'clock. It was even suggested by that same malignant press that a statement of facts would preclude the mention of names of prominent men in this state. I may mention the name of Hugh Theodore Miller, whom this paper thought was fitted for the senatorial toga, and who would have been indicted and sitting alongside these men were it not for the statute of limitations."

"It is regrettable, deplorable, that trials may not proceed unhampered—that the prosecutor and judges must listen to a hostile press. But I am thankful that we are to try these cases not in the way that a newspaper may sway the court or counsel, but by coming into court with a statement of facts, before an impartial judge with courage to send these men to prison if they are found guilty, or release them if the evidence is not sufficient."

Has it come to the place where justice is to be subservient to a newspaper's fight with a competitor, and are we to believe that there is in Indianapolis a newspaper malicious enough to influence a grand jury as much as one minute in the time of its making its report? Are we to believe that there is a newspaper in Indianapolis which, while it cries out against law violation, is itself violating the law in endeavoring to establish communication with grand jurors with the intent of influencing their action with grand jurors."

This is a serious statement. If such a condition really exists—and Prosecutor Baker certainly is in a position to know whereof he speaks—the whole community should be vitally interested in throwing off the yoke of such a newspaper.

If such a condition exists the newspaper which uses such an immoral influence in sustaining itself succeeds through a form of blackmail. Men do its bidding because they fear to do otherwise; they know that it might influence a grand jury; that it could jail the man who didn't knuckle under to it; advertisers spend their money with it not because they want to spend it, but because they are afraid not to spend it. The power of such a newspaper is unlimited and it practices a phase of anarchy which is more menacing to a community than bomb throwers and social revolutionists.

Let us not lose sight of the fact that if your high officials have done wrong, if they have broken the law, they should be made to suffer the penalty. There should be no compromise here.

But if a grand jury of Marion county has been influenced in making its report by a newspaper—let us have an investigation that is an investigation and give the public the name of the newspaper which is bigger than the law and which holds in its hand the reputation and success of every man in the city.

Prosecutor Baker's statement should not be ignored by the governor of this state—it should not be ignored by the state legislature. At whatever cost, the state should know whether men are being indicted through due process of law or through newspaper malice.—Indiana Daily Times, Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 19, 1914.

BIG PRIZE LIST OFFERED FOR THE FIDDLERS' CONTEST

The old-time fiddlers' contest to be staged at the opera house Monday, December 28th, under the auspices of the Greencastle herd of Loyal Order of Moose, promises to be one of the most successful entertainments of its class ever given here. The promoters of the entertainment have received entries from many of Greencastle's and Putnam county's musicians and a great crowd will be assembled on the stage for the contest. COUNCIL ADOPTS SEWER ORDINANCE

CITIZENS OF GREENCASTLE MUST FILE PETITIONS TO CITY COUNCIL, ASKING PERMISSION TO USE SEWER SYSTEM, BEFORE DRAIN PIPES CAN BE CONNECTED TO MAINS—$25 FINE FOR PERSONS GUILTY OF VIOLATION OF ORDINANCE.

GEORGE A. DOBBS RESIGNS

The adoption of a new ordinance which makes it necessary for the citizens of Greencastle to have permits from the city council granting them the privilege of the use of the new sewer system before drain pipes can be connected with the mains, was made by the council at its meeting in the council chamber Tuesday evening. The ordinance goes into force immediately.

The second reading of the proposed ordinance was made Tuesday evening by City Clerk M. S. Miller, and the council voted unanimously in favor of its adoption. The new city law provides that the citizens, in making their petition to the council, give a complete description of the property and give the exact position of the property with relation to the sewer mains or lateral mains. After the petition is considered and the approval of the action desired is made, the city clerk will issue a certificate to the property owner. A complete record of the permits granted will be kept by City Clerk Miller. For a violation of this rule the guilty parties are liable to a fine not to exceed $25.

J. E. Sharp, J. F. Hill and Joseph Gardner filed petitions for the use of the sewer system at the council meeting Tuesday evening, but no action was taken in the matter. The adoption of the new ordinance was made in order that the people of Greencastle might be restricted from the use of the sewer until a complete inspection is made. It is understood that several people in the west part of the city are using the system. The council will order the use of the sewer discontinued until an inspection is made of that portion which has been completed and the approval of the work made by that body.

The city council accepted the resignation of George A. Dobbs, who is serving as city councilman-at-large, and his resignation will take effect January 5th, the end of the fiscal year. The following resolution was adopted by the council after the presentation and reading of the resignation:

Mr. George A. Dobbs:—We, the five other members of the Common Council of Greencastle, Indiana, hereby accept your resignation to us tendered in writing, and take this opportunity to express our regrets on account of your resignation. We also desire to express to you our great appreciation of your splendid work during the time you have served as a member of the Common Council.

We sincerely wish that your new work may prove as satisfactory as it has proven to be while serving in this council.

With sincere regrets, we are

J. WALTER COOPER, Mayor.
EDWARD W. HOFFMAN.
FRANK ALLEN.
E. A. SCHMITT.
ROY M. ABRAMS.
C. E. CRAWLEY.
F. M. LYONS, City Attorney.
M. S. MILLER, City Clerk.

The resignation of Mr. Dobbs comes as the result of his acceptance of a position as revenue collector in the Seventh District. His new work will begin January 1, and Mr. Dobbs will go to Terre Haute the first of the year. The services of Mr. Dobbs have been most efficient during the past year which he has served as councilman. The election of Mr. Dobbs' successor will be held at a special meeting of the council ten days after his resignation takes effect.

A contract was closed with Daniel W. Bohannon Tuesday evening for the hauling and crushing of the stone that is taken from the ditches excavated for the new sewer system. The price per cubic yard paid for the crushing of the stone will be 67½ cents. The stone will be used for the repairing of the streets of the city, and will be stored on the hitch lot. Councilman Abrams made an objection to the passage of a resolution closing the contract, suggesting that the stone be purchased of the local stone quarries. He stated that complaints had been made by the local concerns. All the other councilmen voted in favor of the passage of the resolution and the contract with Mr. Bohannon was closed.

An appeal filed with the Public Service Commission of Indiana by the T. H. I. & E. Traction company, asking that the 2 cent fare law be repealed, was read to the council by City Clerk M. S. Miller. The traction company is endeavoring to have a law providing for a fare of 2½ cents a mile. The petition to the Public Service Commission, which was heard by the council, asks for the authority to revise schedules of interurban rates.

That the Foulkes Construction company wishes to have the acceptance of the work completed on south Indiana street be made immediately and that it desires the issuance of bonds by the city in order that they may draw interest from the first of the year was stated by Mayor Cooper at the meeting Tuesday evening. The acceptance of the work was referred to the street committee and the inspection and approval of the contract will be made as soon as possible. It is impossible for bonds to be issued to the Foulkes Construction company by the first of the year.

RICH OIL SEEP IN WATER WELL

MEN DRILLING A WATER WELL ON OIL LEASE IN NORTH PUTNAM COUNTY STRIKE A 15 TO 20 PER CENT. OIL SEEP AT A DEPTH OF 200 FEET. AND DRILLERS ARE FORCED TO ABANDON THE WELL—OIL MEN ARE GREATLY PLEASED WITH PROSPECTS FOR RICH "FINDS" ON LEASES OF NORTH PUTNAM COUNTY.

DRILL NOW IN OPERATION

Well drillers operating an outfit on a farm near Bainbridge last Saturday afternoon, struck a rich oil seep at the depth of 200 feet. The seep tested out about 15 to 20 per cent. oil and is an excellent indication of a good flow of oil at a lower depth. The well was abandoned. The result of the drilling of the well is gratifying to Phil S. Fenn, the promoters of the oil project in Putnam county, and the experts who are here to sink the test wells.

When interviewed on Tuesday Mr. Fenn stated that the same strata of sand in which the well drillers struck the oil seep, would be found at a depth of 700 or 800 feet on the James Miller farm west of Bainbridge where the first test well is being sunk. The striking of the oil seep Saturday, is the latest of a number of "finds" made by well drillers in the north part of the county, which are excellent indications of an abundance of oil in this vicinity. The striking of the oil in the well near Bainbridge several days ago has greatly enthused the farmers of north Putnam and much interest is being centered on the completion of the first test well. Mr. Fenn is now taking leases on farms in the north part of the county and will continue to close these contracts for several weeks.

The oil derrick and drill have been set and operations began that day at noon. Very little work will be accomplished during the next week, as operations will be discontinued during the holidays, in order that the men operating the drill may go to their homes to spend Christmas. After their return the work will continue with no delays. Two shifts of expert oil men will run the drilling outfit and work will be continued both night and day until the completion of the first test well.

The oil men have made no estimate of the length of time required for drilling the test well, for the material through which the drill must pass, is not known. Should few delays be experienced and the average class of earthen materials be encountered, the well probably will be completed in three or four weeks' time.

X-MAS PROGRAM AT UNIVERSITY

A program of special Christmas numbers was given by the DePauw university choir and orchestra in the last chapel exercises before the holiday vacation in Meharry hall Tuesday morning. Practically the entire student body and faculty, and several Greencastle citizens were present for the exercises which were greatly enjoyed. At the close of the regular program, J. O. Cammack, at the request of the college authorities, took a picture of the new Bishop Thomas Bowman memorial pipe organ which was dedicated on Sunday. The picture, which was taken from the back gallery, also will show the audience that was present that morning.

The program opened with the organ prelude, "Meditation, Morning," played by Professor Van Denman Thompson. The university choir then sang "And the Glory of the Lord" from "The Messiah." This was followed by a hymn by the audience, and the scripture lesson and prayer by President Grose. The announcements were read by Dr. Blanchard.

The program closed with two very enjoyable numbers, "Stille Nacht" and "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," the popular European war song. The former was sung in German by the audience and the latter was played by the orchestra, the audience joining in the chorus.

struction of the Panama canal and the management of the great industrial organizations were cited as activities that call for physical as well as mental strength and valor.

The president quoted some statistics showing the expenditures of nations for armament and for school purposes and called for a spirit that will cause the education of the youth to be more thought of than the destruction of one's enemies.

Professor Van Denman Thompson, presided at the new organ during the services and the numbers that he played were greatly enjoyed by the audience. The university choir sang several Christmas numbers principal among which were "Joy to the World" and "Hark! the Herald Angels Sing." Dr. J. P. D. John, former president of the university, lead in prayer and in the responsive reading.

Miss Maude Ringo, who is teaching school at Elwood, is here to spend the Christmas vacation with her mother, Mrs. Addie Ringo.

Miss Esther Jackson, who is attending Indiana University at Bloomington, has returned to her home in this city to spend the Christmas vacation.

Miss Florine Gobin, who is teaching school at Gary, is here to spend the Christmas vacation with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Gobin, on Bloomington street.

Professor and Mrs. W. V. Brown and son, Irving, who is a student at Purdue university left on Tuesday for New York city where they will visit during the holiday vacation with relatives and friends.

Miss Mabel Jackson, who is teaching at Dana, Ind., is here to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jackson, on south Indiana street.

Miss Jane Hartley is spending the Christmas vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hartley of this city. She is attending school at the Indiana State Normal at Terre Haute.

Miss Goldie Coffman, of Indianapolis, a former resident of this city, spent the week-end here with friends and relatives.

A broken or defective rail was the cause of a wreck east of the station at Bainbridge on Thursday about 9 o'clock. The engine of a freight train, which was switching in the yards jumped the track and traffic was blocked for several hours. The "jumbo" wrecker from Bloomington cleared the tracks that afternoon and traffic has been resumed.

The marriage of Miss Charlotte Eiteljorge, a popular young lady of Madison township, and Roy Porter, a young farmer of near Judson, Ind., was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eiteljorge Sunday afternoon. The couple procured license to wed of the county clerk Saturday.

Thomas Sutherland has filed suit in the Putnam Circuit Court, asking judgment against Roy Sharp and others for $115, which they claim is due on a promissory note. Mr. Sutherland alleges that a promissory note was executed to him by the defendants for $91.68 and is due and wholly unpaid. The attorneys' fees and interest on the note are included in the amount of judgment asked. William M. Sutherland is the attorney for the plaintiff.

Notices have been sent to all the banks and trust companies in the county by County Auditor C. L. Aihart, inviting these concerns to submit proposals for the care of county funds for the next two years, beginning the first of the year. The banks and trust companies of the county will submit these proposals for receiving the county funds with bonds in the form of personal bonds, surety bonds or chattel security, to the county auditor and they will be presented to the board of county commissioners at a meeting January 4th for examination and approval. The funds will be divided among the several depositories, according to the capital stock of the concern. Practically all the banks and trust companies of the county will file proposals for the receiving of the funds.

James Merriweather has patented a safety device which cuts and connects the air on the air brakes of railroad trains without the brakeman going in between the cars. The device can be used on all trains without changing the style of the present air and car coupling connections. Mr. Merriweather expects to interest several railroads in his invention, as it is said to be most practical and no doubt would save the lives of many railroad men during the course of a year. Statistics show that about 7,000 men are crippled or killed each year while between cars to make or cut a connection. With the use of the device patented by Mr. Merriweather this work can be done by a brakeman standing at the side of the car. Mr. Merriweather received his patent papers on November 11 and now has a model which he is showing to his friends.

Prof. F. C. Tilden, of DePauw university went to Kokomo Sunday where he addressed the big men's meeting given in that city under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. The men's meetings are held there each month and are attended by large crowds.

Miss Tassell Hartley entertained Saturday evening with a Christmas tree party for a number of friends at her home on south Locust street. Those present were: Miss Helen Leachman, Miss Ethel Gibson, Mrs. Raymond Fisher, Mrs. Thomas Callahan, Mrs. Burl Hurst, Miss Goldie Coffman of Indianapolis, Miss Nell Hinton, Miss Ruth Harcourt and Miss Lola Williamson.

Twenty-four new members of Greencastle lodge of Loyal Order of Moose, No. 1592, were initiated into the mysteries of the order Friday evening. This is the second class initiated, the total membership now enrolled being 101. The charter will be held open for a few weeks and J. W. Manges, the organizer, expects the final enrollment to be near the 175 mark.

Superintendent of City Schools, H. A. Henderson, and County Superintendent Wright were in Terre Haute on Saturday attending a meeting of a committee appointed at the sessions of the Indiana State Teachers' Association held in Indianapolis last October to arrange for a meeting of teachers in the Fifth Congressional district for next spring. The meeting today was held in the office of President Parsons, of the Indiana State Normal school.

The sale of a portion of the real estate owned by the late Samuel Rightsell in Washington township was held in the lower corridor of the court house Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The land was sold to satisfy a judgment rendered in a partition suit recently settled in the Putnam Circuit Court. One hundred and forty seven and one-half acres of the land was purchased by John Kohlenburg and forty acres was purchased by Maurice Gibson. William Vesta was the commissioner appointed by the judge to sell the land.

Gordon Thomas will leave in a few days for Bloomington, where he will take a medical course in the State University. He was the mainstay and captain of the DePauw football team of 1914 and was given a berth on the all-state secondary team, by all sports critics of this section of the country. The loss of Thomas will be keenly felt and the 1914 coach will find it difficult to develop a man to fill his shoes. Thomas was a senior in DePauw this year and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas of this city.

Morris Frank Woods, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Woods of near Filmore, and Miss Hazel Lydick of Coatesville, were married Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the private office of County Clerk A. J. Hamrick. The ceremony was performed by Elder C. L. Aihart of this city in the presence of a few intimate friends of the couple. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lydick of Coatesville and the groom is a promising young farmer. They will reside at Filmore.

Ernest Kivett, trustee of Mill Creek township, who formerly was in business in Broadpark, has purchased the Sims Co., General store in Martinsville and will conduct the business hereafter. Part of the stock of the store was owned by John G. Bryson, manager of the Putnam Electric Co. He gets the Kivett farm in Jefferson township in the deal by which Kivett gets control of the store.

James L. Hamilton, former owner of a music store in this city, is the defendant of a suit for judgment in the sum of $205, which was filed in the Putnam Circuit Court by the Ludwig Piano company Saturday. The plaintiff claims that a bill against Mr. Hamilton is past due and is unpaid. The original amount of the bill was $225 and on this amount the plaintiff claims only $70 was paid. Jackson Boyd is the attorney for the complaining party.

Stella M. Junkins and George Owens were appointed as guardians of the estate of their father, Andrew J. Owens, a prominent farmer of Floyd township by Judge Hughes of Putnam circuit court Tuesday. The petition for a guardian for Mr. Owens was filed by Mrs. Junkins on the grounds that sickness and infirmity had rendered the defendant incapable of managing his estate and business matters. Attorney F. M. Lyons represented Mrs. Junkins in the case.

Charles Johnson, a colored resident of south Greencastle, was arrested and taken before Justice of Peace Frank Monday afternoon where he entered a plea of guilty to the charge of harboring a dog for which no taxes had been paid. Johnson stated that the dog was owned by his uncle, who is now in Terre Haute, and that since this relative moved away, the dog had been sheltered by him. He was fined $1 and costs which amounted to $10. He furnished bond and will pay the fine in a few days. A number of other affidavits have been filed in Justice Frank's Court against parties of the city, charging them with the same offense.

Laurence E. Black, of Montreal, Canada, arrived here on Thursday to spend the Christmas holidays with his father, Edwin E. Black, on east Seminary street. He is a former resident of Greencastle and a former student of DePauw university and has many friends in this city.

Among those from Greencastle who attended the wedding of Miss Ruth Leazenby and Mr. Warren Ayres in Crawfordsville Tuesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. O'Hair, Miss Dorothy Arnold, Miss Marjorie Campbell and Gordon Prevo. Mrs. O'Hair sang during the ceremony.

In its story of the Old Melodies Concert given in Indianapolis Saturday evening the Indianapolis Star says: "Two other pleasing numbers were sung by Miss Margaret Kreigh and T. A. Nealis. They sang 'Oh, That We Two Were Maying' and 'Life's Dream is O'er.' Both songs were well known and they were greeted with instant approval."

Announcements have been received here of the coming wedding of Wilbur Grimes and Miss Fanlou Priest, two former Greencastle young people, which will occur at the bride's home in Kentucky Christmas day. Mr. Grimes has made his home at Kokomo for the past few years but recently has been working in Illinois. Both young people are former students of the Greencastle high school and have many friends here.

On Wednesday, December 30, at Baldwin, Kansas, will occur the marriage of Ross Baker, a former Greencastle boy and son of Mrs. Lou Allen Baker, and Miss Helen Porter. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Alice Downing Porter, a graduate of DePauw and for a time a member of the faculty of the local university. Miss Ruth Price, a present member of the DePauw faculty, will attend the wedding from Greencastle.

The marriage of Kenneth L. Dicks of Indianapolis, and Miss Edna G. Elliott of this city, was solemnized at the residence of Rev. and Mrs. B. D. Beck on Anderson street Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Rev. Beck performed the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Elliott and is a popular young lady of this city. They will make their home in Indianapolis.

Rev. A. M. Hootman, Mrs. W. W. Tucker and daughter, Miss Bertha, and Mrs. John W. Dunlavy were in Indianapolis Saturday to attend the meeting of the Christian Ministerial Association at the Y. M. C. A. in that city. Dr. W. C. Morrow of Butler College, addressed the meeting that afternoon. He is Bible chairman of Butler College and has been heard in this city on several different occasions.

It is rumored that the Federal Grand Jury investigation of the Terre Haute election fraud cases has been completed and that many indictments have been returned. However, the indictments have not yet been made public. Several prominent Republicans, as well as many Democrats, have been indicted according to the rumor. The result of the investigation, when made public, promises to bring many surprises.

Twenty-six members and pledges of the local chapter of Delta Tau Delta banqueted at the chapter house on east Seminary street, in honor of the three members of the organization, who played on the DePauw football team last season. The honor guests were Captain Gordon Thomas and Robert Woodruff. Don Thomas, the third gridiron warrior, was called to his home in Greenfield on account of the serious illness of his father and was unable to be present at the banquet. Both Woodruff and Don Thomas will return here next fall, but the Old Gold machine will lose Captain Thomas by graduation.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the state farm held in Indianapolis Friday, plans for the building of two buildings on the farm near Putnamville were adopted. One will be a dining room, 200 feet long, and large enough to seat approximately 1000 prisoners. The other building will be a dormitory which will accommodate from 175 to 200 prisoners. Work on the erection of the buildings will begin as soon as possible. Contracts for the purchase of the lumber for the buildings were let Friday. True & True of this town got the contract for the flooring, window sash, windows and glass. A Richmond firm got the contract for the siding and a Terre Haute firm was given the contract for the roofing. The buildings will be strictly modern.

The official board of the Locust Street Methodist church at a meeting held Thursday night voted to bring the Kerr Bros., of Detroit, a company of noted evangelists, to Greencastle for a series of revival meetings to begin on March 28. The meetings will last for at least three weeks and the congregation of the church already is planning for some great services. The Kerr Brothers at present are in Toronto, Canada, where they are having great success in their work. It is said that there are few evangelistic companies that are more successful in accomplishing real good than the Kerr Brothers. Definite announcement of the arrangements for the meetings are to be made later.

Mr. Ellsberry O'Hair, an aged and well-known resident of Monroe township, fell on the ice, on Tuesday, and received injuries that will confine him to the bed for some time.

Judge Hughes closed the November term of the circuit court on Wednesday, allowing the attorneys and court attaches a Christmas vacation. The next term of court will begin on January 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fry, former resident of this city, came Wednesday for a short visit with relatives. They left that afternoon for Bay Minette, Ala., where they will make their home. They have made their home at Indianapolis for the past several months.

Roy Clayton Buis of Filmore, and Miss Mabel McAninch, the daughter of Elisha McAninch, of near Filmore, were married at the home of the bride's parents east of that place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Reuben Masten read the marriage ceremony in the presence of a number of relatives of the nuptials. They will make their home on a farm near Filmore.

Word has been received here of the death on Monday of Dr. William Farrow, a former Putnam county man, at his home in Jacksonville, Florida. No particulars of the death have been received. The body will be brought to Putnam county for burial, arriving on Friday morning. The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Brick Chapel Methodist church, conducted by the pastor, the Rev. C. W. Jeffras. Burial will be in the Brick Chapel cemetery.

Word has been received here that Miss Ida Overstreet, a former Greencastle young lady, who has been taking treatment in the Rockefeller Institute in New York city for some time, has been removed to the home of her father, William I. Overstreet, in New York City. Her many friends here will be glad to hear that Miss Overstreet's condition is much improved.

Miss Irma Hootman, a member of the Mauer Concert company that has just closed a several weeks' trip through New York state, has returned to Greencastle to spend Christmas with her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Hootman. Miss Hootman will spend several weeks here before leaving for another concert tour with the Mauer company.

The management of the local high school athletics is attempting to make arrangements whereby basketball may be continued as a sport here. It is said that a room may be rented soon that will enable the color teams of the school to stage games and the high school aggregation to practice for contests with other schools. No place is available, it is said, where a large number of spectators could be accommodated. The recent action condemning the army as a place to play was a great disappointment to high school officials as more than 100 pupils were receiving athletic training before the action was taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred V. Thomas celebrated their seventh wedding anniversary at their home on Hanna street Monday evening with a party which was attended by a number of their intimate friends. The evening was enjoyed with a "taffy pulling," several vocal numbers by Mrs. Ralph Knoll and Mrs. Charles Leuteke and games. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Will Grogan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Knoll, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Harris, and daughter Miss Pearl, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leuteke, Mr. and Mrs. Kimber Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bryan, and Mr. and Mrs. George Garrett.

The Greencastle flour mills have received instructions from the Northwestern Millers' Association to proceed with the grinding of the 200 barrels of flour to be sent from here to the suffering Belgians in the war zone. The money from the local contributions has all been collected and special sacks received and as soon as the flour is ready it will be shipped to the coast from where it will be taken abroad. The local contribution of 100 barrels has been completed with the exception of a few barrels. The Northwestern Millers' Association will complete the car load lot. The latest contributors to the fund are E. A. Smith, $1.25; C. E. Crawley, $1.25; Landes & Light, $1.00, and the Rev. Vandament, $1.00.

The "gallantry" of a Greencastle young man, who was returning from Terre Haute on one of the late interurban cars resulted in quite a fistic encounter west of town, Sunday night. The young man made several uncouth remarks about the feminine members of a show troupe which boarded the car at Terre Haute and started to the ladies' apartment of the car, from the smoker, to enter into a conversation with them, when one of the men of the show party attacked him. In the encounter that followed the Greencastle youth came out with both eyes blacked and a deep scalp wound on the back of his head. He was bleeding profusely when the car arrived here and received medical attention of a local physician.

I wish to announce that I am prepared To fill Auctioneering dates for Public Sales.

Joseph P. Le Neve AUCTIONEER LENA INDIANA.

Miss Margaret Quigg, who has for the past few weeks taken treatment at the Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis, has returned to the home of her brother, Harry Quigg, of this city. She was suffering of tuberculosis of the glands and underwent an operation at the Indianapolis hospital and is now improving. She formerly owned a millinery store in this city and is well-known here.

A second suit for divorce from her husband, Charles M. Haymer of near Putnamville, was filed in the Putnam Circuit Court Wednesday by Mrs. Tulia Haymer. She claims that her husband is guilty of cruel and inhuman treatment and often has abused and mistreated her. A suit for divorce was filed by Mrs. Haymer several weeks ago but the action was dismissed. In the second suit she asks for a restraining order, which would prevent the husband from molesting her or her property, a divorce, $500 alimony, the care and custody of the three children and $10 a week for their support. Lyon & Peck are the attorneys for Mrs. Haymer.

Punch boards, slot machines and other games of chance which have been operated by many of the stores of the city, will be prohibited after the first of the year, according to a report which has been the topic of conversation among business men having these gaming devices in their places of business for the past few days. It is understood that the mayor and other city officials disfavor the gambling devices and it is no more than probable that action of the sort rumored will be carried out.

Mrs. Ella LeFleur was granted a divorce from her husband, Charles V. LeFleur on the grounds of cruel and inhuman grounds Wednesday afternoon by Judge Hughes of the Putnam Circuit Court. The plaintiff in the case is now a resident of this city and Mr. LeFleur is a barber of Indianapolis. Moore & Moore of this city were the attorneys for Mrs. LeFleur and J. M. Walls of Indianapolis represented the defendant.

Copies of "Famous Living Americans," a volume published by Charles Webb, of Greencastle, as a text book in public speaking for high schools and to which several Greencastle and DePauw university people are contributors, have been received here. Among those who have written biographies for the publication are Professor H. B. Gough, Dr. H. A. Gobin, Dr. C. C. North, Professor F. C. Tilden, Dr. W. W. Sweet, Maynard L. Daggy, DePauw '96, Jackson Boyd, Robert John, DePauw ex-'00, Miss Ida Riley, Herman O. Makey, DePauw '14, and Emerson Knight, DePauw ex-'16. The volume has received recognition from several periodicals.

ADVERTISE IN THE HERALD.

DEATH COMES TO MRS. H. L. FRAZIER

Mrs. H. L. Frazier, age 29 years, wife of a prominent Greencastle business man, died at the home on east Franklin street at five o'clock this morning. Death was due to tuberculosis of which the deceased had suffered for more than two years. Besides the husband, Mrs. Frazier is survived by four children, Paul, age 11; Marie, age 10; Marjorie, age 8, and Clifford, age 5; the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Will Whitley, one brother, Roy Whitley, and one sister, Miss Ruth Whitley, all of Indianapolis. The funeral will be held from the Locust street Methodist church at 2 o'clock on Friday afternoon, conducted by the pastor, the Rev. B. D. Beck. Burial will be in the Forest Hill cemetery.

Although Mrs. Frazier had been ill for many weeks, the announcement of her death came as a distant shock to the many friends of the family. Mrs. Frazier was one of those loving mothers and wives whose great interest is in the home. She always was attentive to the welfare of her loved ones and besides was a favorite among her neighbors and a loyal friend of all whom she knew. During her long illness she seldom complained, bearing her affliction with great fortitude. The community will feel its great loss as well as the immediate family.

With the exception of about a year Mr. and Mrs. Frazier had lived in Greencastle since their marriage in 1902. Mr. Frazier formerly was a dairyman here but later purchased a grocery in Terre Haute which he conducted for about a year. He later returned to Greencastle and only a few weeks ago purchased the grocery store formerly owned by R. W. Hazlett. The store will be closed until Saturday morning.

The township trustees are making their road tax reports to County Treasurer H. H. Runyan this week. Each township trustee reports to the county treasurer the amount of road tax work the land owners in his township have done and the treasurer credits the land owners for the amount due them. These reports must be filed by the trustees on or before January 1.

The car load of flour that will be sent from Greencastle for the relief of Belgians will be shipped on Thursday, according to an announcement made today by local mills that have the contract for furnishing the flour. It was expected that the work of grinding the flour would be completed today and that the car could be loaded Thursday morning.

REPORT MEMBERS OF BOOSTERS CLUB

CLASSIFICATION OF NAMES IN NEW ORGANIZATION SHOWS THAT ANNUAL REVENUE WILL APPROACH $2,000—MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE IS CONTINUED UNTIL MEETING OF ENTIRE CLUB IS HELD.

WILL BACK POULTRY SHOW

A report of 202 members who will furnish a total revenue of $1,789 a year was made by the membership committee of the Greencastle Boosters Club to the executive board of the organization at a meeting held in the council chamber of the fire department building Wednesday night. The members were classified at the meeting as follows: 45 merchants at $2.00 a month; 34 professional men, city and county officers at $1.00 a month; and 123 private citizens at twenty-five cents a month. The names of several applicants for membership were dropped from the list because they were not willing to pay the amount of dues that is required for the class in which they belong.

The executive board authorized the membership committee to continue its work for a few days until a date for a meeting of the entire membership of the club can be fixed and some definite arrangements made for the future work of the organization. The membership committee also was given power to employ someone to collect the monthly dues of the organization.

The executive board appropriated $50 to be used in offering premiums for the poultry show to be given on January 4 to 9 by the Putnam County Fanciers' Association. This amount, it is said, is only one-third of what will be necessary in conducting the show and is much less than what is offered by the commercial organizations of other towns in promoting similar attractions.

"BEFORE CHRISTMAS" RECITAL PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE

The last recital at the Asbury Conservatory of Music before the holidays was given Wednesday evening in the conservatory hall before a large audience and the repeated and continued applause testified to the approval of the audience. An orchestra composed of Robert White, Miss Garnett Sackett, Clarence Hazlett, Stanley Brown, Miss Blanche Statton and Mr. Earl Lisby gave three numbers and responded to one encore. It was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Earl Lisby played the last and most difficult movement from Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata in a very satisfactory manner. The Mozart-Grieg Sonata in C major by Lucille Gillespie assisted by Mr. Norris was one of the cleanest and clearest pieces of work on the program. Other piano numbers were offered by Regina Harrison, Wilma Miller, Ruby Wright, Anna Belle McWethy, Norvella Green, Florence Evans, Elva Ayler, Iva Cunningham, Evelyn Ayler and Walton Raines. The last number, the Summer Night, by Binet, received many compliments. The numerous crows among the pupils prevented several of the voice numbers from coming on but the vocal numbers of Miss Edna Wolf, Miss Hazel Branham, Miss Jean Marshall and Miss Hazel Rambo show the excellent work that is being done in this department. Mr. Schaefer's class was represented by Gertrude Cook, John Lane, Henry Cook and Garnett Sackett. Miss Sackett played the La Cinqtain by Gabriel-Marie and shows a marked broadening in both technique and interpretation.

Children in Red Cross Sale.

Children are among the most eager buyers and enthusiastic sellers of Red Cross Seals. In scores of cities such as Cleveland, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Grand Rapids, Detroit, Providence, Wilmington, Harrisburg, Washington and Seattle, the boys and girls are helping to fight tuberculosis with Red Cross Seals. One nine-year-old girl in Duluth last year sold 4,500 seals in four days. A Meriden, Conn., boy of ten sold 50,000 in three weeks. A Wilmington, Del., girl of twelve sold 10,000. Some of the children in Buffalo sold over 1,000 in a week. The schools of St. Louis sold over 250,000 seals, and in other cities they added large sums to the anti-tuberculosis fund.

Everywhere the boys and girls are going in the fight against tuberculosis by selling Red Cross Seals.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Randel, of Terre Haute, were here Sunday to spend the day with James L. Randel and Miss Naomi Randel.

JEALOUS DANVILLE YOUTH KILLS RIVAL AT GIRL'S SIDE.

DANVILLE, Ind., Dec. 20.—Jealous because his place in the affections of a pretty young country girl had been taken by a rival, Walter Seward, a farm hand, 21 years old, this afternoon lay in wait for Charles Cashdollar, 22 years old, and shot him while he was driving with the girl.

The latter, Miss Mabel McCormick, drove with the body of her dying sweetheart half a mile to a farmhouse, and the young man expired there within an hour after being shot. Seward ran two miles away from the scene of the crime and then, evidently realizing that he had little chance to escape, surrendered to a farmer and awaited the arrival of the sheriff from Danville. Seward is in jail tonight in a state of collapse.

Until two months ago young Seward, who is employed on a farm near that owned by Miss McCormick's father, "kept company" with the young woman. Then Cashdollar appeared, and Miss McCormick is said to have dismissed Seward and devoted her thoughts to Cashdollar. Seward then became jealous.

The young men are said to have clashed several times, but never came to blows. This afternoon young Cashdollar drove to Miss McCormick's home and they decided to take a drive through the country.

They had reached a spot about two miles and a half south of Griswold. Behind them were Miss McCormick's sister and another young man. Suddenly Seward stepped from behind a tree, and, aiming a shotgun at Cashdollar, fired at a range of only a few yards. The charge entered the victim's chest and he fell forward upon Miss McCormick's lap.

Seward made no attempt to harm the girl. He caught sight of the other couple immediately after the firing and took to his heels.

Meanwhile Miss McCormick, not waiting for the arrival of her sister and companion, whipped up the horse and drove to the home of Eli Parnell, half a mile from the scene of the shooting. A hurry call was sent to Dr. Charles Yoke of Bridgeport, but Cashdollar lived only a few minutes after the doctor's arrival.

After the shooting Seward ran to the home of a farmer for whom he had been working, still carrying the gun. He opened a door and threw the weapon into the house.

"What is the matter?" called the farmer.

"You'll find out soon enough," replied Seward, and fled toward the road. The young man kept on running until he reached a farmhouse almost two miles distant. There he stopped and, telling the farmer what he had done, asked that the sheriff be notified.

When Sheriff J. W. Gentry arrived from Danville Seward was in a state of physical collapse, apparently, and was unable to tell a straightforward story of what had happened. His only statement was that he had not intended to kill Cashdollar. At the jail he declined to talk.

Seward, who is an orphan, was reared at the Rose Orphans' Home at Terre Haute, and becoming incorrigible, was placed in the Indiana Boys' School at Plainfield, from which he was paroled several times, the last time being in May of this year. This was his first serious offense.

Cashdollar is said to have come to Indiana from Pennsylvania. He was an expert tree doctor and for a time was employed on the Fleming farm, near Avon, at pruning trees. Recently he had been employed at similar work on the farm of Oscar Simmons. He was driving Simmons' rig when he was shot.

Dr. Yoke removed sixty-one shot from Cashdollar's body. Miss McCormick, although sitting beside Cashdollar, was not wounded. She is the daughter of Ora McCormick, at whose home Seward had been boarding, although he was employed on an adjacent farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Hogate, of Danville, were the guests of honor at a most elaborate and charming dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Smith, at their delightful home on Walnut street Friday evening. The home was tastefully decorated in Christmas decorations and the guests were seated at ten small tables, arranged in the library and dining rooms. After dinner the guests were entertained by a musicale by George Kadel and Clarence Ball, the DePauw tenors, who gave several piano and vocal numbers. Mr. and Mrs. Hogate returned to their home in Danville Saturday afternoon after attending the organ recital in Meharry Hall. Mr. Hogate, who is editor of the Danville Republican, is a graduate of DePauw.

Alfred Storms, age about 70 years, a former resident of Putnam county, died about 9:30 o'clock Friday night at the Deaconess Hospital at Indianapolis, following an operation. The funeral services and burial were held at the Bethel church, east of Fillmore, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Voorhees Tells Wonder Stories Of The Fabled Peace River District

James Paxton Voorhees, a writer and traveler in the north, has arrived from Canada, after many months in the northern bush. He has been stopping at the Hotel Cadillac and has brought down from the regions of the Hudson bay and the McKenzie river, occupying positions contiguous to the fabled Peace River country, stories of strange interest. Lying so near to the great pulsing artery of trade in the United States is admittedly, on the part of representative Canadians, an area of such vast and unexplored importance as to almost baffle credence.

"I was, before I went into an experience with the Peace River country, spoken to by a banker—a Canadian," said Mr. Voorhees. "He said: 'The Peace River country is a mystery. It lies there (well west of the Hudson bay, but between the bay and the McKenzie river) absolutely undeveloped, considered by us as possessed of the most extraordinary possibilities of development when the tardy railroad gets there. In timber, in agricultural possibilities, in mining, a land unknown. All through there are vast stretches untrodden by foot of human. Upper Canada has scarcely been touched.' I said: 'Can it be possible that, lying almost within immediate touch of the United States, such an allurement to American capital, energy, enterprise—social and otherwise—can it be possible that this material development has been neglected?'"

"This Canadian's voice was lowered as he replied: 'We are in our infancy.'"

"Infancy! Why, you're not born yet."

"The gentleman's attitude was substantially true; and explanation of the stationary condition of things, after some months of patient investigation, results in this: The Canadian was once trusting, even in the native simplicity of its French-Canadian—its northern voyageur. The native Canadian claims to have had the eye teeth cut on the question of the northwestern boundary, in which matter Canada is thought, by the local people there, to have been 'done.' This has given them a 'shy' on United States capital. They haven't the money themselves to develop their own literal wonderland. They told me they could not yet, as once, trust to accept the money domination of the south. Their distrust extended to the rejection, at Ottawa, of the reciprocity deal."

"Commercially, timber holds forth immediate interest there. Our own timber here in the United States is now woefully restricted. Our wood pulp offers a most painful concern to our paper necessary. We can't print without paper, as one vital item. Theoretically, if not actually, the enlightenment of our times is concerned with our paper problem. I discovered in Canada that great American dailies—from the states—are planning across the border, in Canada, wood pulp mills to supply their own more running necessities."

"American genius in transportation is well known. A fair understanding with Canada would establish co-operation. Railroads or water development would do the rest."

"As well, it would be said, Canada, in the only practical or material unknown development, sitting between the controlling nations of the earth—England and the United States—holds, in future destiny, the social, spiritual and commercial connecting link—balance of civil power. This condition of things waits fruition."—Detroit News.

ORGAN RECITALS VERY PLEASING

CHARLES GALLOWAY, FAMOUS ORGANIST, OF ST. LOUIS, RENDERS NUMBER OF DIFFICULT AND BEAUTIFUL SELECTIONS ON NEW PIPE ORGAN IN MEHARRY HALL IN FIRST PUBLIC RECITALS ON THE INSTRUMENT—DISPLAYS WONDERFUL POWER AND CAPABILITIES.

THE ORGAN SPECIFICATIONS

That DePauw university and the community in general are the possessors of one of the finest, even if not the largest, pipe organs in this section of the country was demonstrated on Saturday afternoon and night when Charles Galloway, of St. Louis, one of the most prominent of American organists, presented two concerts on the instrument recently installed in Meharry hall. The character of the numbers played made it imperative that the organ be of great power and perfect action. Mr. Galloway, who was for years the organist at the American church in Paris and a student of the great Guilman, declared that the instrument is without fault.

Two large audiences enjoyed the programs. In the afternoon Mr. Galloway captivated his audience at the very beginning by the "Angelus." From that time on the crowd sat enraptured at the perfect tones of the organ and the wonderful technique of the artist. Perhaps the most popular afternoon number was the "Evening Bells and Cradle Song." This composition by McFarlane was written for the use of the chimes which have become a very popular addition to great organs. The chimes of the new organ have twenty bells and are located in the attic under the tower of the east college building.

The evening program was of the same nature of the one of the afternoon, both having been arranged to display the capabilities of the new instrument. The most enjoyed numbers of the evening, perhaps, were "The Brook," "The Holy Night" and "The Evensong." The first required considerable technique and was a merry movement. It depicted the dash of the brook towards the sea, now running swiftly, now gliding smoothly, now gurgling softly, but always busy and full of life. "The Holy Night" was a tone picture depicting the events incident upon the birth of Christ. It was distinctly a Christmas picture and was enjoyed all the more by the audience for this. In the "Evensong" the chimes were again used and the audience was loud in its praise of this beautiful number.

The programs of the afternoon and evening follow:

Harold Irvine, of Stanley, Ia., arrived here Wednesday afternoon for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hartley and family on south Locust street. Mrs. Irvine, who was formerly Miss Onah Hartley of this city, came here several weeks ago and will remain for the Christmas holidays.

A NEBRASKA GIRL'S CHRISTMAS RIDDLE

The following Christmas riddle was prepared by Camilla Edholm, a twelve-year-old Omaha girl and the daughter of Mrs. K. J. Edholm, the secretary of the Nebraska Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. Guess it if you can.

First of all, I am a small piece of paper nearly one inch square, and I carry on my back something which will make me stick closer to you than a sand burr.

My face is red and green and white, as all things should be at Christmas time, and I remind you of snow and sleighs and Christmas-trees and Santa Claus. I am very neat and trim, for I am scalloped all the way round my edge like Christmas cookies.

I have had my picture taken, and there are now over 100,000,000 of me in almost every state; in fact, all over this country there are people who know me and send for me to come and help them make their friends happy.

You may burn, tear, cut me up, or throw me away, but although I may be destroyed my meaning never can be lost. It is something that will last forever and it is stamped right on my face, where you can see it the first thing. It has helped many, many people, and it will help many more.

I bring happiness and cheer to every place I go besides the pleasures of the givers when they wrap up their Christmas packages and then put my little face where it will be seen. I am usually put on the back of the package right beside the name of my sender, but I am also found on the inside, too.

I was born about the first of August, but you don't see me until December, when I make my first appearance. By New Year's Day I shall have spread my wings and flown away and you won't see me again till next year at about this time. Then I shall appear again with a smiling, cheerful face, but just a little bit changed, for you know that will be a year later, and age changes one's face quite considerably.

You may find me yourself at Christmas-time—that is, if you will know me from my description, and I hope you will, because I want you to understand my message.

GEORGE DOBBS IN REVENUE SERVICE

PUTNAM COUNTY MAN RECEIVES HIS COMMISSION AS DEPUTY REVENUE COLLECTOR FOR THE SEVENTH DISTRICT—ISAAC STROUSE, REVENUE COLLECTOR, MAKES APPOINTMENT.

BEGINS WORK JANUARY 1

George Dobbs, present county assessor, whose term of office will expire January 1, has been appointed by Isaac Strouse, Internal Revenue Collector for the Seventh Revenue District, as deputy revenue collector.

Mr. Dobbs received his commission on Saturday and will take up his new duties on January 1. Headquarters for the seventh district, which consists of 33 counties, is in Terre Haute. Just which branch of the revenue work Mr. Dobbs will be assigned to has not been announced but it is probable that he will do office work in the Terre Haute office.

The appointment of Mr. Dobbs is a most pleasing one to his many friends. During his term as a county office holder he has proved a most efficient officer and will, no doubt, prove a valuable man to the revenue service.

CITIZENS HEED CALL FOR HELP

ACTUAL WORK OF RELIEF AMONG POOR OF GREENCASTLE IS BEGUN BY CLUB WOMEN—MANY WORTHY CASES ARE REPORTED AT MEETING HELD ON WEDNESDAY AT CITY LIBRARY.

CHILDREN GO HUNGRY

Responses to the call for assistance in the relief work that is to be conducted among the poor of Greencastle this winter are being received by the club women of the town who have charge of the work. At a meeting held in the city library Wednesday afternoon, contributions of money and clothing were received and the same were sent immediately to families who are worthy of assistance.

A report of the visiting committees in each ward of the town was received at the meeting and a definite plan for the relief work mapped out. It was found that the cold weather of the past few days has intensified the suffering of many families and that there is great need for assistance in many quarters. It is said that many school children are forced to attend school hungry and that even more are without proper clothing. The names of the children who are in these circumstances were noted and the club women promise that they will be aided as soon as possible. About fifteen dollars in money and several articles of clothing were brought to the library on Wednesday as the result of the first few days' campaign for provisions.

The club women decided to make another appeal to the citizens of Greencastle for assistance in carrying on the relief work. Money is needed the most but contributions of clothing that has been placed in good condition are very welcome. All contributions should be reported to Mrs. H. M. Smith, president of the women's organization that is carrying on the relief work.

SCHOOL BOARD ENGAGES MISS FLORENCE TALBOTT

Miss Susie Talbott has been engaged by the Greencastle school board as teacher of the third grade at the second ward school building to assist Miss Florence Parker, who has had charge of both the third and fourth grades up until the present time. The addition of Miss Talbott to the local teaching corps was made necessary by the large number of pupils in Miss Parker's room.

An announcement that Miss Parker will become a teacher here has been received as good news by patrons of the local schools. She is an experienced and successful teacher having been employed in the Anderson schools during the present school year. The opportunity to be at home caused Miss Talbott to resign her position at Anderson and accept the offer here. She will take up her work at once.

Miss Ida Wood, who assisted Miss Parker of mornings in addition to her work in domestic science in the high school during the afternoons and whose resignation was announced on Friday, will leave soon to do advanced work in some domestic science training school.

Miss Margaret Shouse and Miss Josephine Young were in Bloomington-Freemont basketball game which was played in the high school gymnasium at that place.

For a Weak Stomach.
Mrs. F. P. Trites, Rome, N. Y., writes: "About five years ago my stomach was very weak. I could not eat solid food. Friends told me that Chamberlain's Tablets were just what I needed. I took three or four bottles of them and my health has since been of the best." For sale by all dealers.

TERRY AND JACKSON ARE HEAVILY FINED FOR "DRUNK"

Rather than tell where he secured a quart bottle and a pint of whiskey, Thomas Terry, a farmer residing near Mt. Meridian, decided to suffer the consequences of a heavy fine, when arraigned in Mayor's Walter Cooper's Court this morning charged with intoxication. Well—he took his medicine gravely, but it proved hard to swallow. The fine he drew amounted to $25 and costs, which totaled $35. Fred Jackson, who resides on Fox Ridge, a friend of Terry's who was arrested on the same charge, was fined $5 and costs, which in all amounted to $15. Both men paid their fines and were released.

Terry and Jackson were staging a battle of words, which appeared as though it would end in a fist encounter at the rear of the Runyan restaurant and pool room on the east side of the square early Saturday evening, when Policeman Lewis Hodshire interrupted the conversation. Both men were walked down to the jail by Hodshire and there awaited a hearing, which was held at 6:30 o'clock this morning. Both men pleaded guilty to the charges. Terry admitted that he bought the whiskey in Greencastle but refused to tell where it was purchased. The officers know where the liquor came from, but as yet have been unable to secure any evidence against the men operating the "blind tiger."

Mayor Cooper stated this morning that he intended to stop the sale of whiskey in Greencastle, and would inflict fines to the limit on persons found guilty of this charge. Heavy fines will be inflicted on all persons appearing before him for intoxication.

The spring meeting of the Fifth District branch of the State Teachers' Association will be held in Terre Haute, according to a decision of representatives of the various schools of the district held in Terre Haute on Saturday. Greencastle was the only applicant for the honor. Terre Haute was chosen by a margin of one vote, Superintendent Collins, of Linton, chairman of the meeting, casting the deciding vote. The meeting will be held on Friday and Saturday, April 1 and 2, at the Indiana State Normal. Superintendents Wright and Henderson attended Saturday's meeting from Greencastle. Mr. Henderson was chosen on the executive board to arrange for the spring session which will have as its principal purpose the survey of the schools of the district to see if their work is up to the standard of that given in other districts of the state and country.

DON'T EXPERIMENT.

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Advice.

Never forget your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are frequently symptoms of kidney trouble, and a remedy which is recommended for the kidneys should be taken in time.

Doan's Kidney Pills are a good remedy to use. It has acted effectively in many cases in this vicinity.

Can Greencastle residents demand further proof than the following testimonial?

Mrs. Coffin, N. Tennessee St., Danville, Ind., says: "For some time I suffered from a dull ache and a feeling of languor clung to me. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box and they gave me instant relief. My health also improved. I wouldn't be without Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Coffin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

BRYAN WILL SPEAK IN INDIANAPOLIS IN FEBRUARY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 22.—Secretary of State Bryan will come to Indianapolis to spend two days in February as a guest of the Transportation Club of Indianapolis and the Indiana Democratic Editorial Association, and to address the Indiana legislature, which will be in session at that time.

Gilbert H. Hendren, personal friend of Mr. Bryan, talked to the secretary of state over the long distance telephone yesterday and received his acceptance to the invitations to come to Indianapolis.

"That's a pretty full program you have fixed up," chuckled Mr. Bryan, when Mr. Hendren told him that he wanted him to come here for three addresses. Mr. Bryan, however, said that he would be delighted to come.

Mr. Bryan will address the Transportation Club at its annual banquet on the night of Feb. 3 at the Claypool Hotel, and on the next afternoon he will appear before the General Assembly. On the night of Feb. 4 he will be a special guest of the Indiana Democratic Editorial Association at its annual banquet to be held at a place to be selected later.

Oscar Cravens of Bloomington, president of the Indiana Democratic Editorial Association, and members of the association's executive committee met at noon today to complete plans for their banquet and meeting. It is said that Mr. Bryan will be the only speaker at the banquet. Among the Democratic editors who attended today's meeting arranged by President Cravens were the following: George Griffin, Spencer; Walter S. Chambers, Newcastle; Benjamin F. McKee, Lebanon; W. T. Gooden, Lawrenceburg; Lew G. Ellingham, Decatur; Benjamin F. Louthain, Logansport; Henry Schriker, Knox; Lew O'Bannon, Corydon; Charles J. Arnold, Greencastle; J. B. Faulkner, Michigan City; J. P. Simmons, Monticello, and A. J. Monahan, Fort Wayne.

While the banquet will be given under the auspices of the editorial association, the Democratic editors will not limit the attendance to members of their organization. It is expected that several hundred Democrats of the state will want places at the banquet tables. Invitations to attend will be extended to Vice President Marshall and the Indiana congressman.

NOTICE OF FINAL SETTLEMENT OF ESTATE.

ADVERTISE IN THE HERALD.

"CAVE MAN" BEGINS IN WILDS

Boston Man Not only Plans to Clothe Himself in Forests, but to Kill Mountain Lions.

Grants Pass, Ore.—Somewhere in the vast mountain wilderness in southern Oregon or northern California, Joseph Knowles, the "cave man" and artist of Boston, Mass., is in camp with only the wild beasts and the birds as companions.

He began his attempt to live alone in the woods, by arms or by any of the equipment civilization might furnish. He entered the mountains unclothed and without food. He plans to emerge sufficiently covered so that he may walk down the main street of any city or town without offending the citizens.

Knowles accomplished a similar feat last summer in the woods of Maine, but as that was his native State and he was familiar with the animals, wild berries and topography of that country determined to try the same test in mountains and in a climate unknown to him.

When Knowles left here he was accompanied by Prof. T. T. Waterman of the University of California, who plans to camp near the place the "cave man" enters the wilds of the mountains so if he wishes to send word back to civilization, it will be possible for him to do so.

"On what is in the forest I shall exist," said Knowles. "In my own crude way I shall get my living. I shall clothe myself so that when I come from the forest I shall be able to walk the streets of Grants Pass; in fact I will walk the streets in the garb of the wilderness."

"I shall prove that nature puts things in the forest that man might live, and that if he uses the brains that God gave him he can exist and grow strong. I am not going into the woods to kill. Although I have lived in a game country virtually all my life I never tasted game until last year when I was in the Maine woods. Then it was necessary."

Knowles says the problem of getting a fire will be the first he must solve. As he knows nothing of the western trees he may have to test a hundred pieces of pine before he finds the sort that will ignite by friction.

"In Maine," he said, "I found an old pumpkin pine limb that had been soaked in a lake for fifty years and had washed and dried on the shore, the best thing to produce fire. But I may not be so lucky here."

As the California Indians know of 250 food plants growing wild in the mountains and as there is plenty of game in the woods and fish in the streams, it will be interesting to note how many of these Knowles learns to utilize.

Although Knowles says he will not kill animals for the mere love of taking blood he has asserted that he will try to slay a couple of mountain lions just to show that it can be done. He also will try to tame some of the wild creatures so that he can bring them back with him.

PROTECT PEOPLE AGAINST FOOD

Products Must be Denatured When Shipments are Intended for Use in Manufacturing Nonedible Products.

Washington, D. C.—The U. S. Department of Agriculture has issued a ruling which hereafter will require any spoiled food to be denatured before it can be shipped into interstate commerce.

This will permit the shipment of spoiled eggs for use in tanning, and other spoiled substances for the making of fertilizer, or oils or greases used in machinery, but will require them to be treated with salt, kerosene oil, or coloring matter or in other ways so that they cannot possibly be used for food. The denaturing substances to be required will not interfere with the use of the filthy, decomposed or putrid animal or vegetable substances in the manufacture of nonedible products for the use in the technical arts, but will be of a nature that will absolutely prevent the converting of the substances into products that could, by any chance, be eaten. This is on the analogy of the denaturing of grain alcohol for the use in the arts.

BORAX PREVENTS FLY BREEDING

Washington, D. C.—As a result of experiments, the specialists of the Department of Agriculture have discovered that a small amount of ordinary borax sprinkled daily on manure, will effectively prevent the breeding of the typhoid or house fly. Similarly, the same substance applied to garbage, refuse, open toilets, damp floors and crevices in stables, cellar or markets, will prevent fly eggs from hatching. Borax will not kill the adult fly nor prevent it from laying eggs, but its thorough use will prevent any further breeding.

Road Experts Studying Convict Camps

Washington, D. C.—A joint arrangement has been perfected between the Office of Public Roads of the Department of Agriculture, and the Public Health Service, for the study of convict camps and of the utilization of convict labor in the construction of roads and the preparation of road materials. There is a constantly increasing tendency on the part of the State governments to use convict labor in works of public improvement, such as road construction, rather than in the manufacture of articles which compete with the product of free labor.

The purpose of the joint study is to determine the conditions and methods by which most satisfactory results are obtained and the lines along which improvements may be inaugurated.

RADIUM FOR CANCER.

While Not a Cure It is a Great Aid in Treatment.

PITTSBURGH—Radium and its use in combating the ills of the human body was discussed at the session of the sixty-fourth convention in Pittsburgh of the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania.

The annual production of radium in the world is about 15 grams. With the European war the development and supplying the world's demand for radium became dependent upon America. Dr. Isaac Levin, of New York, talked upon "The Local Application of Radium."

Radium is not a panacea for cancer, Dr. Levin declared. He is considered an authority upon the treatment of cancer.

While radium cannot be declared a positive cure for cancer, Dr. Levin said, it is an agent which is being successfully used in connection with surgery in combating ravages of the disease. Dr. Levin said that the rays emitted from radium destroy the small microbic islands of the disease. After the affected parts of the anatomy are removed by the knife, these small areas are not visible at the time of the operation and it is often only a question of a few months until there is a recurrence.

By the application of radium after the surgical operation, these microbic islands are completely destroyed and relief is permanent. The speaker laid emphasis on the fact that with the aid of radium, through the medium of surgery, advancement has been made within the past few years in the treatment of cancer. Radium has its limits and the scope of its usefulness can be developed further by research work. The general lack of success with radium, Dr. Levin said, can be attributed to the average physician who has not made a study of its uses and its proper application in medical cases.

WOMEN LASSO WILD BOARS.

Mother and Daughter Capture Animals that Escaped from Zoo.

DENVER—Mrs. A. W. Alexander and her daughter, Ruth Mayfield, of 3439 Delgany street, do not know how the two wild boars that escaped from the City Park zoo got down into their neighborhood, but they will be glad when they receive the $10 reward for capture of the animals.

When the two hogs escaped from the zoo systematic search of the surrounding country failed to find them. It was supposed that they could not have gone far. The argument was that the two hogs couldn't wander far from the park without being seen, and being seen would be reported to police headquarters and their capture would speedily follow.

However, the two animals did wander more than two miles across the city and were found by two women in the block in which they live. They captured them with lassoes and began a search for their owners.

One of the women notified the police and in this way the park department heard of the capture. Commissioner Thum, head of the park department, agreed to send the women $10.

SAMSON IN JAIL.

Fellow inmates Greatly Excited by His Performances.

WOODBURY, N. J.—Harry Keel, a young man who was arrested near Billingsport, living in a large iron pipe that he had ingeniously fitted up as a home, broke loose one night in the county jail and had all the prisoners keyed up to a high pitch of excitement. Keel showed wonderful strength when he upset an old iron safe in the corridor, picked it up, and hurled it several feet. He then tore up a grating and threw it through a window, smashing every pane. Warden Goldy finally quieted him and placed him in a cell.

When Keel was arrested he carried a 38-caliber revolver and a fierce-looking knife, which he had made. His kitchen paraphernalia was all made by himself. The prison physician has examined the young man and states that he is temporarily insane, but his great strength puzzled the authorities.

Sleeked Bulldog on Him.

PITTSBURGH—Milo Stamets, of Wilkins township, was held for court on charge of assault and battery and keeping a ferocious dog. Albert Kenney, a neighbor, is the prosecutor. Both litigants are elderly.

Kenney alleges that some of his chickens wandered into Stamets' lot. He asked for their return and Stamets attacked him, striking him several times and then "sleeked" an English bulldog on him. Kenney was bitten several times on the arms and legs.

Whatever may be the straits of the hog, he always has a spare rib or two.

The hum of industry bears no relation whatever to the ho-hum of the lazy man.

Many a man's capacity for pleasure is limited to the capacity of his stomach.

A reasonable amount of egotism is good for a man. It keeps him from brooding over his neighbor's success.

Children's Coughs and Colds.

Mothers are often worried by the frequent colds contracted by their children. Mrs. L. H. Bradley, Mohawk, N. Y., states that in the winter of 1909 and 1910 her children all had bad colds and coughs, and it was not until she gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy that they began to improve. After taking this remedy a few days all symptoms of their colds disappeared. This is only one of the many thousands of mothers who have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and gladly recommend it to their friends. For sale by all dealers.

Obituary.

Helen Celesta Mace, only child of Nicholas and Elizabeth Mace, was born in Putnam county, Ind., on the 9th day of January, 1880, and died between the hours of three and four o'clock a. m. on the 20th day of December, 1914; aged 34 years, 11 months and 11 days.

Through the death of both parents she was left an orphan almost at the beginning of her life, but was not left without the tender care of other relatives who loved and gave her kindly nurture through the period of childhood and did not forsake her when disease laid waste the strength of mature years.

Upon the attainment of her more independent age, she made teaching in the public schools her vocation and continued in that work for a number of years, with such success as to give her recognition among the standard teachers of Putnam county, and many expressions of regret were voiced when it was known that for a time she must give up her chosen occupation though it was hoped that her recovery would make her resignation temporary.

Celesta had many friends—perhaps not one personal enemy—whose sympathy for her was unquestioned and whose hope for her restoration to health was most sincere so long as the remotest reason for hope remained.

From the nature of her affliction she suffered long and greatly, but struggled against the inevitable with a will which seemed heroic; and which nothing but the inevitable could subdue. And who shall say that this great fight for longer life was not her sacred privilege? Or who shall say that the full purpose of self-of the ego which made the purpose of her life—was not unjustly foiled by the dire influence that had no mercy, but robbed her of life's sweetness at the age when life should have been most perfectly sweet? But there was a mercy in the ultimatum. In the early hour preceding the dawn, while the weary watchers by her bed dozed for a brief interval, Helen Celesta Mace quietly passed into the profound slumber that knows no pain. It was utter peace after the war—perfect rest after the prolonged rack of weariness.

As she was a member of the Baptist church at Walnut chapel, it seems fit to say to her brothers and sisters of that denomination who have the beautiful dream of a new and happier existence, that she had the faith of the church to which she was united within the year closing the nineteenth century; and if that dream of heaven is true, may they believe that her freed spirit now floats in the realm where neither years nor centuries are numbered. Let them follow the poetic fancy that in the stillness of Sundays early morn the chariot of light bore her away to the mystic region, by human eye unseen, where the morning stars sang together and the sons of God shouted for joy.

Of others who knew her let it be asked—Are you sorry that she came and lived among us? While this question is being written the snow is falling upon the earth and its muffled murmur swells into the answer of many voices saying, "No." We are only sorry that you had to suffer, and we were helpless to administer a healing balm; but now dearest sister, for your sake we rejoice that peace has spread its wings above you—that peace which passeth understanding.

The funeral was conducted at Walnut Chapel by Elders William Skelton and L. H. Athey. The services were held Monday, Dec. 21, and were largely attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mullinix and relatives wish to thank their neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted during the illness and death of Miss Helen Celesta Mace.

CONSPIRED TO GET $14,000. CHARGED

MRS. ELEANOR HALL, WIDOW OF JOHN M. HALL, A FORMER GREENCASTLE MAN, FILES SUIT IN THE RUSH COUNTY COURT AGAINST GEORGE F. MULL, INDIANAPOLIS ATTORNEY, AND DePAUW GRADUATE

THREE OTHER DEFENDANTS

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Dec. 21.—Eleanor P. Hall, widow of John M. Hall, who was one of the owners of the Oneida hotel, in Indianapolis, has brought suit in the circuit court here against George F. Mull, an attorney of Indianapolis; Thomas K. Mull and Leonidas H. Mull, his brothers, of Rush county, and Lotta Lee Lockwood, of New York.

Mrs. Hall, whose home is in Indianapolis, brought the suit in Rush county because the real estate involved in the suit is in that county. Charges of juggling of mortgages on the part of George F. Mull and that he conspired to get possession of $14,000 in cash which Mrs. Hall had, are contained in the complaint.

After the death of her husband, June 11, 1912, Mrs. Hall, according to the complaint, came into the possession of $14,000 in cash. At that time, Mrs. Hall says she employed George F. Mull to act as her attorney, and that she believed him to be a reliable lawyer.

Charged in Complaint. When Mull ascertained that Mrs. Hall $14,000 in cash in bank, it is alleged, he told her he was about to borrow $14,000, and that while he could get the money from a broker by paying a commission of $410, he would rather borrow the money of Mrs. Hall and pay her the commission.

Mull, according to the complaint, said he was about to buy a claim from another client which would make a large profit. Mrs. Hall says she lent $14,000 to Mull and took four promissory notes. Mrs. Hall avers small amounts have been paid on these notes.

Mrs. Hall says Mull told her when he borrowed the money that he was the owner of unincumbered real estate worth $50,000 in Rush county; that he was the owner of land in Alabama worth $25,000; that he was half-owner in real estate in Marion county worth $15,000, and that he owned bank stock in Rush county of the value of $40,000.

Mortgage Executed. To secure the payment of the notes, it is alleged, Mull executed his mortgage against certain real estate in Rush county. Mrs. Hall says she did not know that to protect herself she should have filed the mortgage in Rush county, but that Mull told her repeatedly that it was not necessary for her to file the mortgage and ordered not to file it.

Mrs. Hall further alleges "that in order to cheat, hinder and defraud" her, Mull conveyed to a man named Christopher Hearn the real estate mortgaged to her for the $14,000 she lent Mull. The deed to the real estate was not recorded in Rush county, it is alleged, until May 22, 1914, the actual conveyance of the property from Mull to Hearn taking place on January 3, 1914, according to the allegations.

After this transaction, it is alleged, Hearn mortgaged the real estate to Mull to secure notes aggregating $14,500, it being represented that this amount was still to be paid by Hearn on the real estate. Then, it is alleged, Hearn reconveyed the real estate to Mull.

Another Loan Alleged. Mrs. Hall avers that the conveyance of the property to Hearn and the execution of the mortgage and the reconveyance were made contemporaneously and for no actual consideration whatever, and were executed merely for the purpose of defrauding the plaintiff.

In February, 1914, Mrs. Hall says she came into the possession of $2,000 in cash, and that Mull persuaded her to lend him this money, which she says she did, taking Mull's promissory note for $2,500 and another mortgage.

Mrs. Hall says she again told Mull she had been advised to have the mortgage recorded in Rush county, but that Mull insisted there was no necessity for such action, telling her the mortgage would be of no more value recorded than unrecorded.

Threats of Violence Averred. Mrs. Hall avers that Mull threatened her with violence if she attempted to have the mortgage recorded. The mortgage purporting to have been executed involved was assigned to Lotta Lee Lockwood, January 1, 1914, it is averred, for the purpose of cheating the plaintiff. This assignment was recorded in Rush county, May 22, 1914. It is alleged that this assignment to Lotta Lee Lockwood is false and fraudulent, because with the conveyance of the real estate to Mull the mortgage became merged in the fee simple title acquired by Mull.

After this Mull is alleged to have mortgaged the real estate involved to Thomas K. Mull and Leonidas H. Mull for $11,000. Mrs. Hall says the Mulls had full knowledge that this real estate had been mortgaged to her.

Asks Judgment. Mrs. Hall avers that the lien of both her mortgages is prior to any other claim against the real estate involved and she asks that the purported mortgage and assignment of mortgage be set aside and that both her mortgages be adjudged valid claims against the real estate, and that judgment for $3,500 be given her.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 22.—George F. Mull, in his office in the Indiana Trust building, said he had borrowed money of Mrs. Hall and that there was a difference between them as to the amount due her as to the validity of her mortgage. He said there was much in the complaint that was not true. He said that was all he cared to say about the matter.

The late John M. Hall formerly resided in Greencastle and was well-known here. Mrs. Hall, too, has relatives in Greencastle and is known here. At one time Mr. Hall's father owned and conducted the Commercial hotel. Mr. Mull also is known here having attended DePauw. He was graduated in the class of 1893.

Obituary.

Alford Marion Storm, son of Isaac and Sarah Storm, was born in Putnam county, Indiana, June 1, 1847; died Dec. 18, 1914, being sixty-seven years, six months and seventeen days old at the time of his death.

He was married to Elizabeth Ellis in 1865. To this union was born three children: Joseph, who works on the railroad; Rebecca, who died in early childhood, and Fred, who also has passed to the great beyond.

When the war cloud, in the sixties hung over this country he enlisted in the 115th Ind. Vols. and served six months, the term of his enlistment. There was no brigade which saw harder service during the dark days of the Civil War than the Persimmon brigade. Then in the spring of '65 he again enlisted in the 43rd Regiment and served until the close of the war.

Alf Storm, as he was familiarly called, was ever cheerful and good company and was always welcome in any society.

The funeral was held from the home of his brother, Henry Storm, in Marion township, Saturday afternoon, Dec. 19th, conducted by Rev. J. E. Sherrill of Danville, and the body laid to rest in old Bethel cemetery.

The Greencastle school board has received the resignation of Miss Ida Wood, instructor of domestic science in the local school and a member of the faculty of the night community school. Miss Wood's resignation came as the result of her decision to take advanced work in domestic science in some training school. It is understood that she will leave Greencastle as soon as her resignation is accepted by the school board. As yet the school authorities have not announced any decision as to whom Miss Wood's successor will be.
